Be a gift to ${\displaystyle SOMEONE}$ in your community

August is Membership Month on the Rotary calendar, and for good reason. Has your club added a member this year? If not, it's time to step up your membership development efforts. Experience has proven that the sooner a club gets its membership growth machine in gear, the more successful it is in finishing the year with net member growth.

What are your club's membership growth goals? If you're not sure, ask your President or your club's Membership Chair. Then ask what the strategies are to accomplish that, and how you can help.

Perhaps your club hasn't had a growth culture for several years. I'm surprised at how many clubs are convinced that they're "just the right size". With 53 clubs ranging in size from 10 members to 276 members, the right size is surely wide-ranging. I invite you to re-examine that assumption, and think about what your club could do with, say, 10 more members. Would it be harder to run the club? Actually, it would probably be easier. Would it provide more hands to pitch in on projects? Would it provide more potential donors to support projects? Most importantly, would it provide some fresh ideas and some potential future club leaders?

Rotary is not a community service organization that happens to have members. Rather, Rotary is a membership organization that whose mission is community service. The value of Rotary membership is in your fellow Rotarians.

DG Terry holds his first official visit at the Rotary Club ofWestminster.

More Rotarians = More value to your Rotary membership.

Think about it. Wouldn't most Rotary clubs, including yours, be stronger and more sustainable with 10 more members? How about 20? Think about it. Rotary membership has been an important part of my life for decades, and I hope it's been for you, as well. Be a Gift to someone in your community or your neighborhood. Invite them to join your Rotary club.

If your club is having trouble getting its membership growth engine started, invite the Grow Rotary Action Team in for some new ideas and membership strategies.

YOUTH EXCHANGE

Morgen Cvetko, a Youth Exchange student sponsored by the Rotary Club of Laurens, greets Tamara Loderer, center, from Dachau, Germany with her exchange match, Lauren Long, sponsored by the Rotary Club of Walhalla at the Greenville airport. Tamara and Lauren had been together on exchange in Dachau and are now in Walhalla. Read more about Youth Exchange on page 9.

IT'S HARD TO FIX YOUR YOURSELF

I've long since realized that Rotary clubs, like most organizations, each have opportunities for improvement. More importantly, I've begun to realize that most organizations, Rotary clubs included, have a very hard time solving age-old problems from within. Why?

Rotary

Doing the same things over and over and expecting different results is the definition of insanity. Improvement starts with a "dodifferent." So, the only way for a club to improve is to try something different. What would that be? Is it likely to work? How many "do-overs" will it take to succeed or, perhaps, give up? Would we be better off trying something that's known to work?

Savvy people and savvy companies, faced with a need to improve usually look outside themselves. People join health clubs, hire financial advisors, see health care providers, etc. when they want to improve something but don't know how. Companies hire external resources who have known track records for helping other companies fix the same kinds of problems they have.

Why wouldn't a Rotary club do the same? Have you heard yourself or another Rotarian say things like:

- "We talk a lot about growing membership, but we don't seem to have any more members"
- "We talk about increasing our Rotary Foundation support, but we haven't offered the members any reason or incentive to give more"
- "We have very few community service projects where our members actually get involved hands-on"
- "Our members haven't gotten involved much with Rotary outside our own club"

• "Our meetings have gotten stale - I wish we could change up our game on occasion"

Those concerns each present an opportunity for improvement and also an opportunity to reach beyond the club for some ideas, resources or know-how not present in the club. Other clubs have had and solved problems like this, usually not all on their own. You have 52 other Rotary clubs and a dozen specialized resource chairs within District 7750 that will help you jump-start an improvement opportunity. I encourage you to reach out and engage some help from outside your club. Have a look at "Why Organizations Fail to Perform".

If you don't know who to ask, just call or email your Assistant Governor or your District Governor. They are there to help you find the ideas, resources or know-how you need to make a difference in your club.

The Membership Committee and YOUR club

BY DGE LANCE YOUNG

Rotary Club of Greenville Evening District Membership Chair

It is everyone's responsibility in the club to recruit new members into Rotary. But, the one committee that should development and implement an action plan for membership development is the Membership Committee. This committee should lead the way in designing and building a vibrant and strong membership recruitment plan.

In order for your club to be effective, you need members. That really isn't hard to understand. Rotary clubs want to serve their community, develop future leaders in their club to serve at a higher levels in the club or district, build their club networking base, support the Rotary Foundation and have fun!

The one big mistake that I've seen clubs make is to not make good membership intentional strategies in their membership action plans. You might ask, "What is an intentional strategy?"

Back to Honduras Feb. 20-27

D7750 is offering a "Voluntourism" trip to sites of our water projects in Honduras. This isn't a service trip but rather an awareness trip. We will be visiting project sites in Copan and Marcala, two cities in Honduras where we work with local Rotary clubs to deliver future generations clean water, thereby doubling the likelihood of children surviving to adulthood. Join Al Steele, District 7750 Water Projects Coordinator for a one-week trip that will change your life. Click here for details.

An intentional strategy is "A specific course of ACTION likely to achieve the desired results."

Now I will give you an example: The Club President along with the membership committee designates one meeting a month for members to "bring a guest" to a specific club meeting where a designated member talks five to ten minutes about "what is Rotary" and "why they are a Rotarian." It would be good to hand the guest a brochure that has all the pertinent information about the club. The President or Membership Chair calls the "guest" about a day or two after the visit to follow-up personally, invite them back and see if they can answer any questions. Follow-up is a must.

I will be writing more about intentional strategies in the coming months and providing more examples. Also, we will be discussing the Grow Rotary Action Team in more detail.

Spartanburg Peru project

Since 2010, the Rotary Club of Spartanburg has sponsored water filtration systems and skill development in the village of Santa Clara, Peru. Adjacent to the Amazon River, Santa Clara has received 167 filtration systems for homes, the medical clinic, churches and school.

In 2015, the Rotary Club of Spartanburg received a $1,500 District grant for ceramic filters to be used in Santa Clara.

The Rotary Club of Spartanburg's Board has approved additional funds to provide stipends to send more Rotarians to Santa Clara in 2016.

This effort will increase water filtration within the community and replace dated equipment.

What should the Membership Committee do? According to the Rotary Club Membership Committee Manual the responsibilities of the club membership committee are to:

• Develop committee goals to achieve club membership goals for the coming year.

• Educate and train club members about the importance of recruitment and retention of members.

• Conduct classification surveys to ensure that club members' occupations and business reflects current business and community needs.

• Develop a membership action plan to improve member satisfaction that involves surveying members and initiating changes in response to their feedback to ensure that the club remains relevant to its members.

• Conduct club assessments to ensure that membership development and retention efforts are successful.

• Work with the public relations committee to create a positive club image that is attractive to prospective and current members.

Rotarian of the Year in Greater Anderson

The Rotary Club of Greater Anderson presented the Rotarian of the Year Award to Tricia McDougald.

The decision for the 2014-2015 Rotarian of the Year came from the past three recipients from the club who included Wanda Richey, Mike Darby, and Leo Smith. They decided to recognize the member who had brought in the most new members to the club during year and who had also served the club in multiple ways.

Along with bringing in a large number of new members, Tricia also did a great job serving as the chair on the Auction Committee for the Dancing for Our Heroes event. Tricia also organized social events around the holidays to bring club members together to fellowship with each other.

Greater Anderson hears about Angel investors

Paul Clark, the Director of the South Carolina Angel Network spoke to the Rotary Club of Greater Anderson in July. The SC Angel Network invests in companies who are just starting out but lack the initial financing. The network is full of angels who fill a critical gap in funding start-up companies.

In the beginning, there is a period when the cash curve of a company dips before it drives up and becomes profitable. This dip in the curve is where the SC Angel Network steps in to help. They work to improve entrepreneurial opportunities. They have 8 groups and over 200 investors across the state of South Carolina. They've invested over $13 million in about 40 companies over the past 7 years. 80% of their investments are in SC companies, but they also have investments in other states that include North Carolina, Georgia, Florida, and even California. They look at companies that grow very quickly and have the potential to succeed. Over the past 7 years, they've looked at over 1,400 ideas and listened to 180 pitches, and have made 40 investments. When new companies start up, new jobs are created.

Anderson Angels joined forces with Craig Kinley at e-Merge, the incubator company in Anderson County that helps startup companies to get going in the area. They currently have 12 investors in the Anderson area. If you are interested learning more about the SC Angel Network, please email Paul Clark at paul@scangelnetwork.com. You can also visit their website at www.scangelnetwork.com.

Rock Hill Rotarian recognized by Winthrop University

Ronnie W. Faulkner, secretary of the Rotary Club of Rock Hill and a librarian at Dacus Library, has been recognized with a Presidential Citation for Service to the Community by Winthrop University. The citation was presented on April 28 by Dr. Debra Boyd, acting president and provost of the University. The honor recognizes Faulkner's "exceptional service" in thirty years as a Rotarian, emphasizing his contributions as secretary of the Rotary Club of Rock Hill, his engagement in community projects, his establishing the Club's successful matching program for The Rotary Foundation, his service on the District 7750 Scholarship Committee, and his designation as the first Major Donor in the 95-year history of the Rock Hill Club.

HATT: Working with D7750 and Rotary Club of Greenville, Partners in Agriculture continues to improve lives in Haiti's central plateau

The president of the Rotary Club of Mirebalais, Haiti, with some of the families in the family assistance program

BY CHARLES WARNE, Rotary Club of Greenville D7750 World Community Service Chair

Many good things are happening in Haiti through Partners in Agriculture's recent activities. We appreciate all that you have done to help us achieve our vision of a more prosperous future for Haiti's children and families. We especially want to acknowledge the support of Rotary International, Rotary District 7750 and the Rotary Club of Greenville, who together made possible a $63,000 grant to our Family Assistance Program. These funds will give forty impoverished families—over 200 individuals—the means to increase income, combat hunger, and live a better life.

Of the funds granted, $43,475 was allocated to the purchase of a four-wheel drive vehicle. Given the rough terrain and poor quality of roads in Haiti, a reliable vehicle is critical to the efficient operation of our farms and programs. The remaining $19,525 A typ is being used to purchase seeds, saplings, tools, fertilizer, pesticides, goats and compost as inputs for family gardens and animal husbandry activities.

The Rotary Club of Mirebalais, Haiti, nominated 20 of the neediest local families to participate, while our program director selected another 20 from remote areas.

Participants are clearly informed of their roles and responsibilities in the program, which is designed to increase a family's sustainable livelihood rather than fostering dependence.

For instance, each family must repay PIA's initial investment of two goats by passing on two kids from Follow-up visits indicate that 98% of farm plots were well developed by June.

We are pleased to report the receipt in July of a continuing grant from the W.K. Kellogg Foundation to sustain the existing program. We envision expanding to incorporate other food and income-generating activities, such as beekeeping, aqua> culture, rabbits or poultry. These plans are contingent on additional funding and would phase in over time.

PIA continues to operate our vocational school, training young Haitians in agronomy, construction and carpentry. We are very proud to congratulate the first class of agronomy graduates, receiving their diplomas this August. The other disciplines graduated their first classes in 2014. Future plans include the addition of electrical and plumbing certifications. We are equipping the next generation to rebuild their country and feed their families, working towards a day when Haiti will again be a prosperous and self-sufficient society.

Thank you once again for your generous support.

We're still on track to provide a sustainable library in Cange

BY SARA MANSBACH, Rotary Club of Pleasantburg

haitiliteracy@gmail.org 864-414-0875

The Cange Library has been a District 7750 project since 2011. The library serves the education, workforce, cultural and development needs of the Central Plateau region.

Haitian leaders and other partners work with us to expand the library to reach 30,000 potential adults, residential university interns, and 3,700 school students in the six village schools. Our goal is to provide a sustainable library with a full-sized computer center, a replicable model.

This year we are working towards sustainability as we

- Provide leadership development
- Mentor and educate the librarian to become more skilled
- Build the French collection, adding computer resources
- Explore expansion of the library facilities

If you care about education and libraries, please help us. Currently, our most urgent needs from Rotarians are:

- 1. Steering Committee members
- 2. Public Relations promoters
- 3. Fundraising organizers

Join us and leave a Rotary Legacy for Learning in the Central Plateau.

Next work trip scheduled for Cange library project

Want to see first hand our Library's progress? Our next Cange visit is tentatively set for October 8-13. Cost is approximately $1,000 for airfare, meals, lodging, and transportation in Haiti. Contact Rita Yarbrough, Newberry Club, 803-271-3602, to join us.

Maradona Pierre's Cange Library Report July 1, 2015

- 2. 50% of them wait for computer use.
- 3. 25% of them for both (computer use, books read).
- 4. 20% of them come to read.
- 5. Have not set up weekly story times yet.
- 6. Every Wednesday" Telemedicine" with the medical staff of Zanmi lasante, from 8:00-9:00 AM.

The most recent step in this direction was made on May 5. That day, representatives from D7750 and 13 other Rotary Districts gathered in Columbia, to celebrate the recipients of the 2015 Coins for Alzheimer's Research Trust (CART) grants.

Thanks to every Rotarian who dropped coins, bills and checks into their club's blue buckets, three CART Alzheimer's research grants were made in 2015.

To arrive at this moment, the grant committee of Coins for Alzheimer's Research Trust (CART) reviewed 33

POLIO MILESTONES — Nigeria goes full year without new case of polio; help us tell that story

BY AMELIA NELSON

Rotary Club of Greater Anderson District Polio Chair

amelianelson007@gmail.com

As you know, there are only three countries remaining where polio has not been eradicated. But, as of July 24, Nigeria marked one full year without a polio case. As of August 11, Africa will mark one full year without a polio case. Rotary's goal is to end polio by 2018 – and we are in sight of reaching that goal. Thanks to the efforts of you, Rotary and our partners our commitment to rid the world of this disease is 99.9% accomplished. Has your club set its Polio goal? Throughout Zone 33, $1,469 was the club average contribution this past year. The total polio goal for District 7750 as reported by clubs is $94,360 or an average of $1,780.40. It would be fantastic to meet – or surpass – our goal. Please continue to support polio either individually or through your club's fundraiser. Let's finish the job of eradicating polio!

Post to twitter: Nigeria's year without a polio case is a critical step toward a polio-free Africa. Help us #endpolio globally: endpolio.org/ donate.

FACEBOOK

Post to Facebook: July 24 marked one year since Nigeria's last polio case. To reach a polio-free Africa, we must maintain high-quality immunization activities and increase surveillance capacity. Donate today to help us finish the fight: endpolio.org/donate.

Six clubs in 7750 earn Zone 33 Public Image Citation in 2014-15

Congratulations to these clubs that earned the Zone 33 Public Image Citation for 2014-15: Anderson, Emerald City, Greenville, Greenville Evening, Pleasantburg, Rock Hill.

These clubs qualified for the recognition by writing a public image plan, promoting their Rotary Days and their signature projects, and completing two optional activities.

Click here to get a copy of the citation for 2015-16. Clubs can earn the citation this year by creating or updating the club brochure, writing a public image plan, and completing three optional activities.

Brad Majors is our district PI chair this year.

Youth Exchange, Italian style

The day after Kylie Wallace arrived in Italy her host family took her to a large family wedding in Northern Italy. She wrote "had an amazing time last night at the wedding! It was such a great experience! Happy Fourth of July from Italy!" Kylie, right, is shown with Maria Giulia Nasi at the Coliseum in Rome. Kylie is sponsored by the Rotary Club of Seneca. Maria Giulia will return to South Carolina with Kylie and attend the first few weeks at school in Seneca.
