SPARTANBURG'S SPRING SINGS DEDICATED TO FOUNDING MEMBER LIZ PATTERSON

The Rotary Club of Spartanburg presented its ninth-annual Spartanburg Sings event that brings together children from across the county to showcase their vocal talent. Proceeds will be applied toward local at-risk youth programs.

This year's Spartanburg Sings was dedicated to the memory of Liz Patterson, a former member of the United States Congress and first woman to serve as president of the Rotary Club of Spartanburg. It was Liz Patterson who envisioned Spartanburg Sings, and members of her family were recognized during the concert.

Many thanks to Event Chair Terry Pruitt, emcee Diane Lee, all volunteers and supporters, teachers and students. —Max Hyde, President, Rotary Club of Spartanburg

Membership Notes

The Object of Rotary can help us become more engaged

BY PDG ED IRICK

District Membership Chair

We all think we choose what path we take in life, who we socialize and mix with, what views we hold. But those decisions are actually shaped by networks of people - David Brooks.

When we speak of Rotary, most often, Service Above Self, the Four-way Test, fellowship, and networking come to mind. However, how often do we speak in terms of the Object of Rotary? We need to become familiar with the Object of Rotary because one of the characteristics of a dynamic Rotary Club is that its members are engaged in carrying out the Object of Rotary. A simple Google search brought up the below description of the Object of Rotary. Take a look at it and see how your club measures up. Are you and your fellow club members engaged in the Object of Rotary?

Do you identify any areas of the Object of Rotary where you need to become more engaged? I think we all can. We should make every effort to increase engagement in this important aspect of Rotary membership.

THE OBJECT OF ROTARY MADE SIMPLE

The Object of Rotary is to encourage and foster the ideal of service as a basis of worthy enterprise and, in particular, to encourage and foster:

FIRST: The Development of acquaintance as an opportunity for service.

Rotarians have the opportunity to create relationships with many business, professional, and community leaders.

SECOND - High ethical standards in business and professions; the recognition of the worthiness of all useful occupations, and the dignifying of each Rotarian's occupation as an opportunity to serve society.

Being a Rotarian authenticates the person and their business or profession.

THIRD - The application of the ideal of service in each Rotarian's personal, business, and community life.

Rotarians nurture this personal characteristic; the cornerstone of building and sustaining relationships.

FOURTH - The advancement of international understanding, goodwill, and peace through a world fellowship of business and professional persons united in the ideal of service.

Rotarians become better world citizens and often build lasting international relationships.

From DG Carol: March blew in strong in D7750

Happy Spring!! As we move further into the Rotary year, I am reminded of how each season brings new adventure. March was an unbelievable month for District 7750 because as the weather started warming up so did the activity of many clubs.

On March 1st I was in Winnsboro where they dedicated their first friendship bench, and I had the opportunity to read my favorite children's book, The Little Engine That Could to a group of 1st graders. The next day I was in Inman to support their Rise Against Hunger project and pinned 13 new RLI graduates.

Next came Honduras...eleven representatives of your Rotary District traveled to Copan to be a part of the Rotary District Conference for Honduras, Guatemala and Belize. Although most of these Rotarians were people we'd never met before, it was like visiting with old friends. Everyone was so friendly and engaging.

While there we attended the dedication of our most recent water project which is providing clean water to two villages with a 40,000 gallon tank. As I spoke to those gathered there, I told them it was one of the best days of my life. It is not often that we get to be a part of such a life changing project.

Al Steele and Ben Ficklen from the Rotary Club of Fort Mill continue to lead our efforts in partnering with Rotary clubs in Honduras to continue this amazing work.

That same day we traveled from that dedication service to another remote village to talk to them about their desire for a water system. We talked with them about their commitment to helping us make this possible. They agreed to all the things we asked of them, and I told them that because of this water project that their children will live healthier and longer lives.

Thanks to all of our district's clubs who have been a part of this strategic work in Honduras...let's continue!

As usual, PETS came up on the schedule for March. Wow, the speakers were so good and our incoming Governor Rob Hanley has an outstanding group of club presidents getting ready to take the reins of their clubs in July. Please give them your support as they work to make our clubs around the district stronger.

It was my honor while at PETS to be the Aide to incoming Rotary President Mark Maloney. He spent a great deal of time with presidents-elect talking about how important it is for us to grow Rotary not in big leaps but in continuous action with each year building on the last one with a steady stream of new Rotarians and the engagement of our current Rotarians to keep them in our clubs. We must all take responsibility to do this so that we have more Rotarians to continue our service to our communities and the world.

As a lot of attention is put on preparation for the upcoming year, it is a signal that this Rotary year is beginning to come to an end, but please do not coast to June 30th... there is still much work to be done.

Let's finish strong with membership by continuing to ask your colleagues, family members and friends to join you in this marvelous organization.

All club presidents set Foundation and Polio goals, let's finish the year by achieving those goals. You've done an outstanding job raising money for CART this year, and the CART year ends on April 30th so please send in CART money you have on hand by the end of the month...please!!!

The celebration of all things good for this year will take place at our District Conference in Clemson in May (17th, 18th & 19th). Dabo Swinney will open the conference with his Mom at his side. She is a polio survivor with a story that will inspire all of us.

We will celebrate our success of CART giving, and I will end the day with a lot less hair!!!!!!!

We will feed the hungry, talk about clean water and literacy and we will end the weekend on Sunday with a question, "what will be your story" by one of the most inspiring speakers I have ever heard.

Please join me for a weekend you won't forget anytime soon!

Let's finish strong and celebrate at the All-Club Conference in Clemson on May 17, 18 & 19 with opening speaker, Dabo Swinney!

ADOPT A STREAM: Lake Wylie and Clover HS Interact worked together on Water and Sanitation Month project

The Lake Wylie Rotary Club and the Clover High School Interact Club joined forces on Saturday, March 23. Rotary International has designated March as Water and Sanitation Month. This is the perfect time of year for our local Rotary adults and the Interact youth teamed up to spend a morning together cleaning up trash along the Crowders Creek bridge on Route 274 for the annual Adopt a Stream cleanup event. In addition to bags of empty bottles, a mattress spring, and two tires were removed from Lake Wylie.

Bill Raines celebrates 67 years of Rotary membership—and 67 years of perfect attendance

Bill Raines has been a member of the Rotary Club of Greenville for 67 years, as of April 1.

He has not only been a Rotarian for 67 years but has maintained perfect attendance. That is remarkable. A rabid fan of the National Football Champion Clemson Tigers, he has garnered his own fan club. In fact, he has been held in high esteem and revered by his fellow Rotarians in the Rotary Club of Greenville for all of those 67 years.

Bill is a native Greenvillian born on July 17th, 1929. His birth coincides with the beginning of the Great Depression, even though he chuckles and says he didn't start it. One stand-out memory from his childhood was the thirty days in the ninth grade he spent in the hospital suffering from Yellow Jaundice. For that entire time, he was only given soft foods, which were prescribed in response to this liver condition. Bill said this had a huge impact because he was never able to fully recover from his diminished physical condition. Hence, he was never able to start on the football team of his Alma Mater, Greenville High School (Class of '46).

Bill took a detour to Clemson College through Duke University. He spent 2 ½ years at Duke on the premed road but decided that was not the right path for him and transferred to Clemson. Between his years at Duke and Clemson, Bill pursued one of his many exhilarating pursuits, obtaining his Private Pilot's License. After only seven hours, he soloed in an Aeronca Chief at the Greenville Downtown Airport.

Textile Manufacturing was Bill's chosen major at Clemson. Due to being a transfer, Bill spent many long days making up for missed freshmen classes and still graduating in two years. Just six weeks prior to his graduation in 1951, Bill married his high school sweetheart. Attempting to make reservations at the Clemson House for his Honeymoon, he was turned down. The staff just wasn't able to "trust a Clemson man" because of all the shenanigans they experienced from these mischievous cadets. His father went over and vouched for his son and arrangements were secured.

Following graduation, Bill went to work with his father repairing textile equipment. He joined the Civil Air Patrol and performed search and rescue missions in the local area. During the Korean War, Bill served in Army intelligence.

Two wives, both deceased, three daughters and two stepsons have enriched Bill's life. He took over his father's business and was the successful owner of Eagle Roller Repair from 1956-1989.

Fortunately for us, Bill has been a remarkable Rotarian by maintaining perfect attendance ever since that day that he was inducted, April 1, 1952. Among his many contributions to Rotary, Bill served as the Sergeant at Arms 12 years. He admits he never had to throw any one out. During those years, he got in the habit of arriving early so, to this day, Bill is usually one of the first Rotarians at our meetings. One observation he has made over his 67 years in Rotary is that he is "Impressed by anyone who has served as President. It is a thankless job that requires lots of dedication and sacrifice". Bill Raines is indeed a great fan of his Champion Clemson Tigers, but in the eyes of the Rotary Club of Greenville, Bill is the true Champion and we are his fans!

"I always look forward to seeing Bill at our Rotary meetings....he truly makes my day! Everyone appreciates his dedication to the club, his "Service above Self" attitude, and a great sense of humor." - Ron Demonet

"Steady, always there. The number one in longevity in our club." - Max Cochran

Steve Finger, right, updated the Golden Corner Rotary Club on Ride To Work, a nonprofit ministry that provides temporary, low-cost rides to and from work for residents of Oconee County. The ministry helps people transition to stable employment and has provided nearly 5,000 rides to more than 100 riders since 2017. Pictured with Steve is Golden Corner Rotarian Stephanie Blake.

Hallman has documented more than 30 trees along the Keowee Peninsula that were trimmed and molded by Native Americans to mark trails, water sources and even caves that could be used as shelter.

Nick Gambrel, center, director of the Foothills Farmstead Living History Museum, recently updated the Golden Corner Rotary Club on developments at the Oakway Community site of the museum that will be a working circa 1925 farm complete with house, outbuildings, crops and farm equipment from the period. D. F. Pace, Keynote Speaker at the 2019 Rotary Peace and Conflict Resolution Conference

An attorney and Inspector in the fourth largest police department in the United States, D. F. Pace focuses on balancing constitutional law and civil rights with public safety. He is an 18-year veteran of the Philadelphia Police Department. He has also held positions in the Law Department, as Judge Advocate, Police Academy Instructor, Public Information Officer, and Commanding Officer of the Court Evidence Unit. He currently serves as the Commanding Officer of the Department's Police Board of Inquiry.

D. F. will speak on "Keeping the Peace" at the 2019 Rotary Peace and Conflict Resolution Conference on Friday, May 3 at the Greenville Convention Center.

Among D. F.'s most memorable and meaningful experiences is the three months he spent at Chulalongkorn University in Thailand where he earned a Rotary Professional Certificate in Peace and Conflict Studies. He was a member of the 11th Class of the Rotary Peace Fellowship in 2011, a program open to professionals whose vocations are in some way connected with advancing the interests of peace and conflict resolution.

D. F. says, "As a police officer, my work is multi-faceted and includes mediating conflict, deescalating behaviors that lead to harm, and protecting and helping those who are victims of crime and violence. The Fellowship didn't just give me additional tools that would help me in my work, it gave me an entire workshop within which I can work to serve the community that looks to the police for services."

"The value of the Rotary Peace Fellowship is its ability to condense into a short period of time techniques, skills, experiences, and approaches which would have likely taken me decades to otherwise stumble across, if at all, as I accumulated knowledge outside the fellowship," he said. "Understanding the motivations for human behavior that leads to conflict, developing cultural competence, and managing conflict are all areas which I am far more adept at demonstrating as a result of the Peace Fellowship. I was able to put these skills to immediate use when I returned to my work as a Police Officer in Philadelphia."

After the peace fellowship, D. F. traveled extensively, studying firsthand the impact of corporate globalization, labor exploitation, and the international and transnational crimes of terrorism, drug distribution, and human trafficking.

Even before events taking place in policing today, D. F. says that he saw an unease developing between police and the community. D. F. Pace says, "If we don't get a handle on this, the lid's going to come off." Pace saw the fellowship as a way to defuse a developing powder keg."

"One of the most powerful tools any person has is their ability to communicate – our ability to interact with people. How you talk to people can create a situation that fosters understanding and compromise or put them on the defensive. Once someone puts up a shield, there's little you can do to fix it at that point. You can always escalate, if necessary, but if you start escalating, it's very difficult to de-escalate."

RAGS and fellowship

BY PDG BARBARA SHAYEB-HELOU, BSH6890@AOL.COM

D7750 Fellowship and RAGS Chair

On March 22, WASRAG (the Action Group for clean water) celebrated World Water Day. This Rotary Action Group is responsible for teaching good hygiene world wide and water conservation.

They have helped communities in Africa, India and Asia realize the importance of separate bath rooms for men and woman and the importance of privacy.

WASRAG was founded in 2007 and they stress a needs based approach to sustainability in projects

For International Grants concerning water supplies, Rotary realized that often equipment was poorly installed and maintained. Thus equipment broke down frequently. So now, they stress ongoing human oversight. Groups of Rotarians have been led to Ghana, India, Kenya and Uganda to help with International projects and engage with community leaders in designated areas.

RAGAS the Rotary Action Group on slavery is now 10 years old. They stress that more than 40 million people world wide are enslaved. They strive to create awareness. RAGAS now has members in 65 countries.

An example is that Myanmar females are trafficked to China as Brides. Due to their gender gap there is a need.

Sexual slavery is fueled by needs like this and we all need to do our part to bring awareness.

RAGES the Action Group dedicated to saving endangered animals such as Elephants, Rhinos, pygmy elephants and Mountain Gorillas. My Club used its International Service funds to purchase a Bullet Proof Vest for a female Game Warden in South Africa to protect her from poachers. There is also a need for tracking collars for large animals. RAGES has projects from $500. to $5,000.

If you belong to an Action Group or Fellowship and are going to RICON in Hamburg, remember that all the groups will have booths and need volunteers. Contact your group and give a few hours.

Greenville Breakfast applies Rotary's Peace and Conflict focus to partnership with middle school GBRC developed a partnership with Tanglewood Middle School in Greenville that addresses Rotary's focus areas of Peace and Conflict Resolution and Basic Education and Literacy. After learning about high teacher turnover and the high number of students with multiple Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACEs) at Tanglewood, GBRC members decided to take action.

GBRC members are being trained to facilitate small group sessions with Tanglewood students that teach the Four

that help students develop relationships with positive community members from diverse professions. Through role play and a variety of scenarios, students and faculty will be challenged to apply the Four Way Test when facing difficult situations at school. This is especially important for students who have limited exposure to peaceful conflict resolution. Quarterly recognition events are being planned to reward students who consistently demonstrate the Four Way Test at school.

GBRC members also participated in High Five for Education Day at Tanglewood on the first day of school and provided special treats to teachers throughout the year. The club's goal is for Tanglewood teachers and students to feel valued and for students to learn important life skills.

STOMP OUT POLIO

Rotary District 5400 is taking orders for shoes that bear the End Polio Now logo and the Rotary emblem on the outside. On the insole is printed: “Be the good you want to see in the world.” to remind us daily that we’ve got to be People of Action to achieve our vision.

The shoes are $75. Provide your Rotary ID at checkout and your account will be credited for a polio contribution.

Here’s a breakdown of where your $75 will go:

Pair of high-tops ($18)

+ Shipping and supplies ($8)

= Total shoe overhead ($26)

Purchase price ($75) - Overhead ($26)

= $49 to PolioPlus

Which means...
