Clubs in action

The Rotary Club of the Foothills enlisted the help of the Girl Scouts to plant trees along the Swamp Rabbit Trail that stretches for miles in Greenville County.

Clemson-Calhoun and Seneca Golden Corner clubs helped collect books for use in centers in Pickens and Oconee counties.

Both of these projects were partially funded with district grants. More inside.

CONNECTIONS

Be the inspiration. Connect the world.

Serving through giving

BY DG ROB HANLEY

Rotary Club of Greenville City Center

As the song written by Edward Pola and George Wylie says, "It's the most wonderful time of the year." From Thanksgiving to New Year's, we get together with friends and family to share good times, exchange gifts, reflect on the year soon to end and look forward to the year to come.

This is also a season when many Rotary Clubs in District 7750 serve their community through giving. Some clubs provide presents to families that have little. Others provide food to families that might otherwise go hungry. Still others bring joy to their community through singing. These are all ways that District 7750 Rotarians connect to their communities. These are ways that you are changing lives through Rotary.

As you look back on 2019, ask yourself how you have connected with the world through Rotary. If you gave to the Rotary Foundation Annual Fund, then you connected through the District's contribution to the End Polio Now campaign. And, those dollars have been matched by both the Rotary Foundation and the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation. Your gift was multiplied several times to help keep the promise made by Rotarians in 1987, the global eradication of polio.

If your club supported one of the District's Global Grants, then you connected by providing clean water to communities in Honduras, or by helping Haitians in that nation's Central Plateau become self-sufficient.

Perhaps your club participated in the Youth Exchange program. Perhaps you joined a polio immunization team, joined one of our project teams that traveled to Honduras or Haiti. Perhaps you visited with Rotary clubs and Rotarians as you traveled about.

These are just some of the ways that your giving and serving connects Rotarians in the Upstate of South Carolina with the world.

As we move into 2020, I ask you to share your Rotary story with someone who would benefit as you have from being a member of your Rotary Club. The Rotary clubs in District 7750 are a gift to our neighbors, and by sharing your Rotary story you can bring that gift to others. For most of us, we are members of a Rotary club because someone asked us to visit a Rotary club meeting.

I am thankful for the ways that Rotarians in District 7750 are the inspiration and connect the world. My sincerest wishes to you and your family for a safe and enjoyable holiday season.

Meet the District's Outbound Youth Exchange Students

XIMANA AMARO-FLORES

Sponsored by Laurens Rotary Club, Ximena, a 16-year old rising senior at Laurens High School, is living for the year in Tournai, Belgium. This is her first trip out of the US. At Laurens, she's a member of the Beta Club and student council and plays clarinet in the band. Although she loves Laurens High School, she said that the opportunity to experience another culture would make her a better person because it would change her perspective "on almost everything." That's why she applied to Rotary Youth Exchange. She was also excited (within some limits!) about sampling new foods while in Belgium. At last report, Ximena was visiting Berlin, Germany. In the future, she'd like to be lawyer.

SLATE OWEN

Sponsored by Pleasantburg Rotary Club, Slate is a musician (piano, guitar, bass, and ukulele) and outdoor enthusiast (hiking, mountain biking, snowboarding).

Slate graduated from J. L. Mann High School in Greenville this past May and is spending a gap year in Strasbourg, France. Describing his personality as "laid back and happy," so that "not a lot of things bother or upset" him, Slate personifies some ideal characteristics of a successful exchange student. Although he has traveled abroad before for family vacations, his experience living with a French family in Clermont-Ferrand inspired him to seek out Rotary Youth Exchange. Now he's working hard to become fluent in French! He's undecided about future career options (perhaps some field in medicine or international business), but he hopes whatever he opts for will enable him to travel and meet new people.

HOLLY SCHWENDIMANN

Sponsored by Spartanburg Rotary Club, Holly is fascinated by all things Japanese, even to the point of teaching herself Japanese (which, more recently, she took in school) and studying Japanese culture, especially music. Appropriately, she is spending the year in Tokorozawa, Japan, where she hopes to become fluent in the language and, of course, immerse herself in the culture. Her love for all things Japanese, however, has a limit: she's not an adventurous eater! Holly is a rising senior at Connections Academy, a South Carolina virtual school. Her love for animals prompted her to volunteer at an animal shelter in Spartanburg. She also enjoys the arts and has taken piano and voice lessons for many years. In the future, Holly hopes to teach English at a Japanese high school.

ERICA YODER

Sponsored by Westminster Rotary Club, Erica is an Interact member, cheerleader, athlete, Beta Club member, and regular "volunteer-er" at West Oak High School and at her church. Erica applied to be an exchange student

Help your high school's students go abroad with Rotary Youth Exchange

Rotary Youth Exchange is seeking applications from District 7750 high school students who want to live and study in a foreign country for the 2020-21 school year or Summer of 2020. Make sure students in your community know about the opportunity!

Many of our young people yearn to explore the world, gain self-confidence, and advance international understanding, but they are not aware of Rotary Youth Exchange, the largest high school exchange program in the world. Tell them!

Exchanges are for people ages 15 to 19 who:

- Have demonstrated leadership in their school and community
- Are flexible and willing to try new things
- Are open to cultural differences
- Can serve as an ambassador for their own country

FOR MORE

INFORMATION or to apply, click: <https://rotary7750.org/resources-and-links/youth/youth-exchange/> or contact the District Youth Exchange Chair, Wade Cleveland at rye7750@gmail.com

IDEAS FOR RECRUITING APPLICANTS FOR ROTARY YOUTH EXCHANGE

- Announce the opportunity at club meetings
- Make sure your club's Interact Club is aware
- Make an announcement at a PTA meeting
- Speak with school administrators (especially those in Rotary)
- Contact school guidance counselors and teachers (especially foreign language teachers)
- Invite your children or grandchildren to apply
- Tell your family members, your neighbors, and your friends who have children in high school
- Mention it at church, at neighborhood organizations, at recreational/sporting events, at meetings of any group you're a part of
- Conduct a special meeting at school for interested students (Most high schools have "open meeting" times.) (A Rotarian did this last year and received four applications from one school!)
- Encourage your children and grandchildren to tell their friends
- Invite one of our former or current exchange students or a district youth exchange committee member to help.

Outbound students—continued from previous page

to become more aware of things happening outside the US. Then she asked to be sent to a country with a culture completely different from ours. She's now living in Taiwan, where her life is as full of activities as it is in the US. She says she has learned to "write pretty well" in Chinese and she can "usually understand" what a speaker is talking about. Given the amount of Chinese she knew when she left, she deserves high praise for this accomplishment! Although not wild about Taiwanese food generally, Erica did learn from her host mom how to make her favorite dish.

When Erica returns to the US, she will have two more years of high school, after which she hopes to study to become either a neurosurgeon or an orthodontist because she really likes science.

India has a higher literacy rate than South Carolina

BY PDG TERRY WEAVER

Rotary Club of Greenville

A speaker talking about the high illiteracy rate in India recently sent me straight to my phone for a Google search. I confirmed what I was thinking: India has a higher percentage of LITERATE citizens than South Carolina!

The speaker, a director of Rotary International from India, was saying how deplorable it was that 270 million people in India (about 20%) are illiterate; and that Rotary is helping build and equip schools to address the low literacy rates that date to colonial days more than a century ago. Pam and I visited one of those projects on our trip to India in 2015, hosted by the former high school principal of the village.

What I found on my phone was the graphic at right that shows state by state the general literacy rates. Notice that the mid-Atlantic and southeastern states have a literacy problem, one that dates back more than 200 years. This is a national tragedy, and I believe largely explains the cycle of poverty among our poorest citizens.

In South Carolina, 25% of our citizens are illiterate, meaning they can't read at a 5th grade level, the target reading level of the daily newspaper. Over one MILLION South Carolinians!

What can Rotary clubs do about this? I would think every D-7750 club should recognize that we're in a target-rich environment for literacy-related projects which might arguably be the highest-impact projects available to us. That's because literacy drives upward economic mobility for the formerly illiterate, which also drives economic and community development. Crime and incarceration go down, as well.

I think our Rotary clubs could be on the front-line for change. I've listed a few ideas at right to get you thinking about what your club can do. If any of these ideas appeal to you, contact your Assistant Governor for help in locating clubs who know how to do such projects. All of these are currently being done by one or more clubs in D-7750. Or contact me. —DG2015@Rotary7750.org

US READING LITERACY

Percentage of the population of each state that has below a 5th grade level of literacy

Ideas for club literacy projects

Most of these literacy projects qualify for a district grant, thus multiplying what you are able to do in your community.

1 Ask your county literacy association what they need and how you can help. Most will need tutors, whom they are willing to train, and funding. They may even need help with painting an old center or organizing a new one, providing a great opportunity for club members to work together on a one-day project. Just do a web search for "xx county literacy association" to find the center closest to you.

2 Classroom reading, usually in K3 to K5 classrooms in Title 1 schools — disadvantaged kids have never heard an adult other than a teacher read a book. Contact your home school district.

3 Little Free Libraries — community-based peer-to-peer book lending

4 Dolly Parton Imagination Libraries — a book gifting program that mails free books to children. <https://imaginationlibrary.com/>

5 Dictionaries for 3rd graders — Still a popular project with kids where the dictionary they receive from Rotary may be the only book in their home.

6 GED Scholarships — The GED is not only tougher than it used to be, it's entirely online and carries a $160 fee. For many GED students, the majority of whom are single moms barely making ends meet, that's a show-stopper. Your local literacy association can recommend deserving candidates.

Two 7750 clubs help with book drive

Golden Corner and Clemson-Calhoun Rotary clubs in Oconee and Pickens counties teamed up with Daniel High School's teachers sorority ADK and Clemson University Alumni Association Women's Council to collect more than 3,100 books. The books were donated to that were recently distributed to several organizations.

Even more books were purchased with a District Grant awarded to Clemson-Calhoun Club.

Books for children and students of all ages were presented to Ripple of One, Clemson Head Start, Seneca Head Start, Foothills Care Center, Clemson Child Development Center, Parenting Place of Easley, Collins Children's Home and Helping Hands of Clemson.

Foothills works with Girls Scouts to plant 10 trees

The Rotary Club of The Foothills, Travelers Rest, planted trees on the Swamp Rabbit Trail with Girl Scouts from Travelers Rest and Marietta. The club funded the project with the help of a District Grant.

Working with the group, TreesUpstate, the club and Girl

Scouts planted 10 of 71 trees one morning. "We had so much fun working with everyone. Thanks to your contribution, TreesUpstate has now planted 7,181 trees," said Kylie Stackis, TreesUpstate Education Coordinator.

These 10 trees will be busy in the next 25 years: They will

- Remove 110,000 miles of car emissions from the atmosphere per year at maturity
- Filter 170,957 gallons of stormwater in the next 25 years
- Store 40,338 pounds of carbon in the next 25 years

A lesson in growing

BY PDG ED IRICK

D7750 Membership Chair

DG2017@Rotary7750.org

This month's membership note showcases another one of our clubs that gets it.

The E-Club of the Carolinas is currently up 3 new members for the year and has more potential members in its pipeline.

It is in a good position to weather the expected membership storm of December and launch into the second half of the Rotary Year.

Despite the fact that the E-Club is comprised of members from all over the world who attend meetings from their own homes or place of business, there are more similarities than differences between the clubs that most of us belong (terra clubs) and the E-Club. Its members are engaged in service projects with Rotary clubs in their communities and support Rotary International programs just like the rest of us. Its members enjoy weekly fellowship and programs.

The membership process employed by the club is essentially the same as that of terra clubs. It has the strong support of its president, it is intentional about the membership process, it set a goal, and developed a plan to achieve it. Its members are engaged in club activities as well as the membership process. It is a strong healthy vibrant club.

Read the article by Lenna Young, E-Club Membership Chair, and see how the E-Club of the Carolinas gets it.

Lets grow Rotary together.

E-Club's membership strategy: a club's member engagement and cohesiveness + membership recruitment and retention = membership rates

BY LENNA CORLEY YOUNG

E-Club of the Carolinas

Remember the algebraic lesson if  $a=b$  and  $b=c$  then  $a=c$ . The Rotary E-Club of the Carolinas proposes that this lesson may apply to membership growth. They suggest that "a" stands for a club's member engagement and cohesiveness and "b" stands for membership recruitment AND retention, while "c" then equals membership rates. So looking at the formula one more time, the District's E-Club sees a very strong, if not absolute, connection between the overall culture of the club and resulting membership numbers. Simply stated, they believe the level of member enthusiasm for each other in support of Rotary will have a profound effect on membership recruitment and retention.

Led by President Mike Reid, the E-Club has been putting actions behind their belief. Mike believes the E-Club is a perfect vehicle to connect the world, and he believes it starts with the engagement of the club's current members.

While some see an E-Club having challenges of not interacting face-to-face, technology actually provides a wide variety of opportunities for frequent, virtual, face-to-face meetings. Members can see each other on a regular basis from around the world – literally – Uganda and India to name just two – expanding members' personal and professional horizons.

A once a week fellowship time on Zoom provides a chance for members to just chat, to get to know one another, to discuss service work, to basically engage with and encourage each other. This camaraderie is the "a" in the formula above and a part of the equation that Mike and his board are aiming to continue improving on.

The effect of E-Club's camaraderie extends beyond the E-Club's membership.

We have sponsored members for land-based clubs this past year. The E-Club is dedicated to growing Rotary whether for their club or for others. They believe that the more members are engaged with each other and others the more the club will grow and thrive through retention of current members and recruitment of new members.

Like all clubs, the E-Club has a list of activities and areas they see as needing improvement. This year, centered around the being the connection, the E-Club is looking to firm up its current members' connections to each other and thus affect their impact on connecting the world to Rotary.

Inman writes Christmas cards for Veterans

Spartanburg School District One and the Rotary Club of Inman are sending Christmas cards to Veterans across the Southeast. The cards will go to nursing homes and VA Hospitals. Their goal is to send 50,000 cards. The Landrum and Chapman High ROTC students are organizing the distribution, and Karen Bush, past president of RC of Inman, organized club volunteers. Those involved wanted to bring happiness and cheer to Veterans who have served our country. Pictured are Inman club members busy writing just some of the 50,000 cards.

At the York Rotary weekly meeting on November 7, Tameka Brantley talked about Operation Warm. She is with Mecklenburg South Rotary Club and Rotary is a partner with Operation Warm. 270 Rotary clubs have done their own fundraising to assist Operation Warm. The organization provides winter coats to needy children. It was started in 1998. Amy Hagner was recognized as a plus 1 Paul Harris Fellow and William Langford was recognized as a 3 time Multiple Paul Harris Fellow.

Emerging Leader puts Service above Self: Gets help for injured hiker while at Rotary training event in Atlanta

DG ROB HANLEY

Our district sent three Rotarians to the Rotary Zone 33/34 Emerging Leaders Summit that was held recently in Atlanta, Georgia.

District Governor Nominee Designate Joyce Morin, Rotary Club of Lancaster, and Assistant Governors Rysheeka Bush, Aiken Sunrise, and Stephen Baggett, Jr., Greenwood, participated in a day and a half seminar series intended to further their Rotary leadership.

The seminar started on Wednesday and ran through noon Thursday. They had the afternoon off before the Zone Leadership Summit began Thursday evening.

Stephen decided to spend his free time running errands for his family and then, as he is a history buff, visiting Kennesaw Mountain National Battlefield Park.

Stephen parked at the visitor's center at the base of Kennesaw Mountain and began the hike to the top.

With an elevation of 1,768 feet above sea level, Kennesaw Mountain is the highest peak of the ridgeline. The climb is steep and winds around the mountain's southern, western and northwestern flanks.

About halfway up Stephen took a moment to rest and consider whether to continue the climb or return to his car. Even though he was dressed Rotary "Business Casual" he decided to continue to the top.

Kennesaw Mountain is mostly wooded and this time of year the trails were covered with leaves. Upon reaching the summit Stephen saw only a woman and her dog. The woman had twisted her ankle after stepping on an uneven surface hidden by fallen leaves and walking was difficult.

Taking action, Stephen introduced himself and offered assistance. He helped the woman hobble down the trail to the Visitor's Center and then waited to make sure she could safely return home.

When he first came upon the woman, Stephen could easily have ignored her, or he could have left quickly after helping her return to the Visitor's Center. Instead, Stephen saw the situation through even though it delayed him.

When you next see Stephen, thank him for demonstrating Service Above Self.

Situated northwest of Atlanta, Kennesaw Mountain is a ridgeline on which Confederate General Joseph Johnston erected a defensive line during the Civil War. Union General William T. Sherman decided to conduct a frontal assault on the Confederate positions. The battle lasted the better part of June 27, 1864 and at the end of the day the Union army suffered three times the casualties of their opponents and had not dislodged the Confederates from their positions. However, the Union Army had gained a strong outflanking position causing the Confederate army to abandon their defensive position and retreat to the Chattahoochee River, the last natural barrier separating Sherman's army from Atlanta.

District Governor Nominee Designate Joyce Morin carried one of the flags of the countries represented at the 2019 Zone Leadership Institute in Atlanta. The training included all districts in Zones 33-34, which stretches from Pennsylvania through the Caribbean. Joyce will serve as our governor following Rob Hanley, Beth Padgett and Frank Cox. Among our PDGs at the Institute were Becky Faulkner and Tom Faulkner.

HEALTHCARE IN SENECA

Hunter Kome, president of Oconee Memorial Hospital-Prisma Health, recently updated the Golden Corner Rotary Club on plans for the Seneca hospital and the South Carolina health organization that now includes the former Greenville Health. A $12.3 million expansion of the OMH emergency department will begin in 2020 along with a partnership with Clemson University that will be based at the hospital. Pictured with Kome is Golden Corner Rotary Club president Cammie Kaiser.

RYLA DELEGATES SPEAK TO GOLDEN CORNER CLUB

Rotary Youth Leadership Awards — RYLA — students from Seneca High School's Interact Club were guests of the Golden Corner Rotary Club and updated the club about their week-long experience at Erskine College in Due West, S.C. The students were sponsored by the Golden Corner Rotary Club and the Seneca Rotary Club. Pictured from left, are Gene Williams, Golden Corner Rotary Club RYLA coordinator; Cynthia Carlisle, Seneca High's Interact Club faculty advisor; Bettina Solesbee, Kora Justus, Golden Corner Rotary Club president Cammie Kaiser and Aneri Vasoya. Not pictured is Molly Whalley. More than 50 Seneca High students participate in Interact Club activities and students that attend RYLA at Erskine College are eligible to receive a $5,000 scholarship every year they attend the Presbyterian school.

TOYS FOR TOTS

Del Williams, community coordinator with the Toys for Tots program, updated the Golden Corner Rotary Club about the drive to see every child receives a little Christmas. Toys for Tots is sponsored by the Marine Corps Reserve and gets assistance from the Lewis G. Watkins Detachment of the Marine Corps League in Oconee County. The program serves all of Oconee County, Liberty, Central and Clemson in Pickens County and Pendleton in Anderson County. Pictured with Williams is Golden Corner Rotary Club president Cammie Kaiser.

HOW TO GET A ROTARY PLATE

The cost of a Rotary license plate is $50 plus the registration fee for your vehicle. About $40 is returned to your club and you may apply all or part of the net donated dollars to your Sustaining Member account at the Rotary Foundation, and/or to district/club programs/projects.

Go to <https://rotary7750.org/document/rotary-license-plates/> for more specific information.

DG's visit to Union

The Union club had a special meeting with a visit from Rotary District Governor (7750) Rob Hanley. He pinned 11 Paul Harris Fellow (PHF) recipients and discussed how Rotarians are eradicating polio.

More district grant recipients for 2019-20

These are more District Grants that have been approved for clubs in 7750. The figure at the end of each is the amount of the grant, not the total amount of the project. These grants are possible because of your contributions to the Rotary Foundation.

PLEASANTBURG

Our ready program project emphasizes the fun of reading and will encourage students at one elementary school to make the crucial skill of reading a part of their summer and after-school activities.

This grant will help fulfill this objective in three ways:

1. Rotarians will attend lunch at the school to interact with administrators, librarians, and curriculum staff to learn about reading challenges and new reading programs and school reading initiatives. After lunch, Rotarians will read a book to each kindergarten and first grade class. Before leaving, the Rotarian will present each student a copy of the book.

2. With advice and assistance from the school's library staff, Rotarians will purchase books to fill the growing need of the library for additional books. This is already a school need, but the need will become more pressing annually because the school is adding an additional grade level each year for three years; this creates additional demand for new books at higher grade levels.

3. Working with parents, teachers will promote a summer reading initiative/incentive for all students. To assist, this grant will be used to purchase five books for each student in the school. This effort will teach the fun of reading, encourage summer reading, enhance mastery of reading, and help close the summer learning gap.

Rotarians will read and present one book to each student (almost 300) in kindergarten and first grade. The school's library serves a student body of over 800 students, a number that will grow annually as grades are added. Each of those students will receive books for summer reading. $3,125

REEDY RIVER

The mission of Girls on the Run is to inspire girls to be joyful healthy and confident using a fun, experience-based curriculum which creatively integrates running. We will sponsor a Girls on the Run team at Robert E. Cashion Elementary, where we already have an on-going relationship.

The program meets twice weekly, for 1.5 hours each time. They cover 21 lessons in 10.5 weeks. The number of girls that can participate in the fall or spring program is 20. As the program grows in the school, and 20 girls each season are able to participate, the impact would be beneficial to the girls, their families, the coaches and the school community in general. $1,990

REEDY RIVER

Early Act FirstKnight (EAFK) is a character and ethics education program for children in grades K-8. The purpose of EAFK is to develop young people into ethical, morally sound, community oriented, self-disciplined, and responsible members of society. Daily award-winning academic character instruction is taught by educators in their classrooms. EAFK inspires students from all backgrounds to seek those most excellent human qualities through which to better serve their communities and shape the future.

School-wide Knighting ceremonies honor children for achievements, and are emceed by armored knights and sponsoring Rotarians.

Funds will support EAFK programs at Robert E. Cashion Elementary, part of the Greenville County School system. Powdersville Middle School, part of the Anderson County School district. $4,200

ROCK HILL

We will acquire a container and stock it with 25,000 children's books from a large book publisher for our Book Giveaway. School buses will transport kids from poorer schools to the event 30 minutes before the event to give these kids first choice at selecting their books. Local companies will be encouraged to sponsor tables at the event for $1,000 per table, ➔ food trucks and drinks suppliers would also be invited to attend and donate. The event will be used to publicize our Rotary Club and the projects that we support, and to use that as a recruitment tool to increase our membership. We will encourage the parents to make donations, and use our 30 plus Rotaractors to sell $20 50/50 raffle tickets. After the event we will convert the container into a community computer lab to be placed on the grounds of Clinton College. Through fundraising and the District Grant, we will provide funds to the Oconee County Adult Education program for GED Scholarships. These scholarships go to adults that cannot afford to pay the fees to take the tests. We expect to spend $3,900 for 26 scholarships at $150 for the four tests and $100 for 2 GED individual tests. $2,000

SIMPSONVILLE

For the seventh consecutive year, the Simpsonville Rotary Club will distribute dictionaries to all third graders through the 8 elementary schools in the area. The schools provide the student numbers at each location and the club orders for delivery to the schools. Upon receipt, the school contacts the Rotary Club for a presentation day and time by the club Rotarians. Dictionaries cost $3,900 and the 4 Way Test plates cost $100 for a total project expense of $4,000. $2,000

SIMPSONVILLE

The Simpsonville Rotary Club provides Christmas gifts for families in the area. The local police department identifies families through their victim assistance programs and we provide both family and children needs through a list provided by the family members. $500
