Growing membership during a pandemic

DG Beth takes advantage of the reporting skills so well-honed during her career with The Greenville News to interview one of the most successful club presidents in D7750 this year.

Her interview with Shawn Bell from Fountain Inn starts on the next page. See what Shawn says about growing the club from 29 to 37 members in six months in the midst of a pandemic that has stymied a lot of our clubs.

Beth has also written an article about a pipeline. See what that's about on page 12.

Rotary Clubs can grow membership

Just look at what Fountain Inn has done

BY DG BETH PADGETT

Why don't people join Rotary? Fountain Inn Rotary Club President Shawn Bell has an answer.

"I feel like a lot of folks don't get asked in whatever community (they are in)," Shawn said in an interview shortly before Christmas. "People get so complacent with the people who are coming (to Rotary meetings) on a normal basis, and they forget that there are a lot of other folks in the community that would be interested."

The Fountain Inn Rotary Club is on fire. Under the leadership of President Shawn (who is city administrator of Fountain Inn), the club has the biggest net membership growth in District 7750. Fountain Inn had 29 members on July 1, and it had 37 members before Christmas. The club has a net gain of eight members for the first six months of this Rotary year.

When I went to Fountain Inn Club on August 3 for my official visit, the club had already taken in a few new members and had a couple of prospective members at that meeting. Later at the Board meeting, Shawn talked about his desire to have a banner year for membership, but he also expressed concerns that some members who didn't feel comfortable returning to an in-person meeting may lose their connection with Rotary.

Beth with Fountain Inn president Shawn Bell.

Here's what Shawn has to say about growing his club during a pandemic

Here are parts of Beth's interview with President Shawn.

DG Beth: To what do you attribute such exceptional membership growth?

President Shawn: This is my third Rotary Club (also Abbeville and Lake City). I have always been interested in membership and was Membership Chair in Lake City. When I took over as Fountain Inn president on July 1, I made it a point to start asking people. Obviously, I know a lot of people in Fountain Inn, and I just started asking people. I did get a bunch of new members from (city) employees. Some were department heads that had dropped out previously. I got them to rejoin and get excited about the club again. Also, I went after some clergy in the area.

I think like a lot of clubs in South Carolina, we have struggled with diversity. Not only age but race, ethnicity, and gender. I am (trying) to get a more diverse club. We are still struggling with gender. We have added several African-Americans. Also, we really are trying to get younger members as well.

DG Beth: In August we talked about getting these new members engaged quickly. How's that going?

President Shawn: We got some of those people to immediately join the board. We got them excited about the club and participating.

We had our annual turkey shoot in November. It was by far best turkey shoot we've had in many years. I attribute that to newer members going out and getting sponsorships. We made over $6,000 this year.

DG Beth: Sometimes clubs that grow quickly lose those members just as quickly. What is your long-term plan for keeping the members engaged?

President Shawn: I have specifically gone to folks and asked, “What is it you would like for Rotary to do?” We are looking at fundraisers and service projects. Even at our quarterly Adopt A Highway, we are getting more participation. I’m starting to get folks interested in donating to (The Rotary Foundation). One of the things we’re looking at is giving out Paul Harris points. We are getting members engaged in Adopt A Highway, reading to kids, the turkey shoot. I think they will be more likely to stay engaged.”

DG Beth: When I met with your Board, we discussed the challenge of keeping older members engaged if they didn’t feel comfortable returning to an in-person meeting. What are you doing in this area?

President Shawn: I am trying to engage them by email and keeping in touch. I think they’re anxious to get back.

DG Beth: Why the intense focus on membership this year?

President Shawn: I feel like that’s the lifeblood of any Rotary Club. I think if we can get the membership to a point where it’s sustainable and we are constantly recruiting new members and not losing older members, I think a lot of other things will fall into place. I only have so much time and have a crazy job and I have two little ones at home. I just felt like membership is the one thing (I can focus on) that will help lead to the longer-term success of the club.

I’ve had some of our older Rotarians come up to me and tell me they love seeing all the new members. I think we had older Rotarians who were concerned about the long-term future of the club. I think those concerns have been alleviated quite a bit.

DG Beth: What tips would you give to other Rotary Clubs?

President Shawn: The best advice I got was from (our training) where we were told to ask who in your community is not a Rotarian but should be. Before I started my presidency, I got a piece of paper and started writing down people’s names who would be good Rotarians. I’ve just been going through that list. Fortunately, a lot of them have decided to join. There have been some that have said maybe not right now, but I’ll just keep on those people. That’s the biggest thing. Just think about who those people are and be persistent with it.

DG Beth: You already have surpassed your goal of 33 members. What’s your goal now?

President Shawn: My goal is to really set up the club for beyond my presidency. I want to be an active past president. I want to say I set up our club for the next five or 10 years. That was my goal and I think we’re well on the way to doing that.

Indian Land Sunrise helps in community despite Covid isolation

BY MICHAEL NEESE

Rotary Club of Indian Land Sunrise

Indian Land Sunrise Rotary Club joined forces with several other community groups to help spearhead socially distanced, monthly outdoor activities for groups unable to meet due to Covid restrictions.

Rotarians supplied tools and trucks for the inaugural November Highway 521 Community Litter Cleanup, which drew 32 volunteers, that filled 67 bags and piled up other debris.

December brought "A Gift to the Community," the second annual refresh of Deputy Roy Hardin County Park, with 17 masked volunteers, ranging in age from 12-80.

Rotarians brought wheelbarrows and tools to use in spreading two dump truck loads of playground mulch, trimming trees, and creating a walking path through the woods to Six Mile Creek. Trucks again were filled with debris and brambles, as we made new friends and joined in a common purpose with other community groups.

Indian Land Sunrise Rotary will continue to lead these monthly events, to fill the need for community togetherness in this time of Covid Isolation.

Greenville Breakfast has Christmas Party with Girlupgvl

BY DAVID BRENNER

Rotary Club of Greenville Breakfast

Girlupgvl, under the direction of Kim Mogan, has 13 middle school girls attending full time virtual school.

Girlupgvl's originally mission was to provide an after school program. Greenville Breakfast was going to support them by helping the girls with tutoring and their homework assignments.

However due to COVID, Girlupgvl switched from an after school program to a full time virtual school. Greenville Breakfast Club switched their plans also to supporting Girlupgvl by providing lunches for the girls and staff.

The club also wanted to give the girls a Christmas party, but maintain compliance with COVID restrictions.

Previously the club had treated the girls to a Taco bar which they all really enjoyed. So, along with Kim, the Club decided the girls would really enjoy the Taco bar again.

In addition to organizing and preparing the Taco bar, the Rotarians gave each girl a Christmas gift. Each girl received a craft kit.

Along with the great Christmas decorating done by the girls and staff it was a really enjoyable and festive time for Girlupgvl and the Greenville Breakfast Rotarians.

It was heartwarming to see and hear how much the girls enjoyed the Taco bar and the Christmas presents. A huge thank you to Rotarian Sharon Landis, Greenville Breakfast Club Secretary, for organizing the party and preparing the Taco bar.

Greenville Breakfast Food Drive

As the Christmas season approaches, many of us used an Advent calendar to celebrate and count down the days until Christmas in many different ways.

This year one of our members found a food collection reverse Advent calendar on the internet.

Thus the members of Greenville Breakfast found a unique way to celebrate the Advent season and hold a food drive to help our neighbors in need.

By using a reverse Advent calendar they collected a different food item each day of the Advent Season. Then prior to Christmas day they donated the food that they had collected throughout the month to Project Host in Greenville.

In addition, one of our members passed on this idea to Johnna Camp at First Christian Church in Greenville. She jumped on the idea and encouraged her congregation to participate in this project with Greenville Breakfast.

Dave Brenner

Tom Kedrowski, Tammy Rhoades and Johnna Camp.

The result was a tremendous success. More than $1,000 of non-perishable food was donated to Project Host for distribution to those in need in our community.

E-Club of the Carolinas assists with hurricane recovery in Honduras

By PDG Lance S. Young

Last month, two devastating hurricanes (Eta and Iota) landed two weeks apart in Central America. The relentless rain caused massive damage to towns, villages, and infrastructure. A ray of light was the Copan Runis Rotary Club members' love, care and concern for their communities. The club worked to attend to the immediate need of food for families who lost everything.

Copan Rotarian Luis Godoy, a good friend to District 7750 and me, sent out a text message requesting financial assistance to help meet their immediate need to feed the hungry. Without hesitation, the E-Club voted to send funds to help with this critical humanitarian effort.

The pictures Luis sent tell the story. With the financial assistance from other Rotary Clubs and their surrounding Districts, the Copan Rotary Club was able to purchase food to assemble over 800 (35 pound) bags of food (beans, rice, etc.) for families. Each bag costs around $20 per bag and fed a family of four for at least a week.

Funds provided allowed the Copan Rotary Club to not only provide food for the Copan villages (40%), but they were also able to support Santa Rita villages (40%) and Cabanas villages (20%). "It was an answer to our prayers," said Rotarian Luis. He also wanted me to "tell everyone (in the E-Club) thanks for helping the ones in need!!"

During this season of giving, the E-Club felt the meaning of Service Above Self in using funds raised to do good in the world!

Best wishes to all for a healthy and prosperous New Year!

December 2020 update of GLOBAL GRANT 2092320 for water and sanitation projects in the Guatemalan villages of Pavit and Xenimaquin.

Guatemala Water and Sanitation Project

REPORTED BY THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR AND PROJECT MANAGER FOR ABPD FRANCISCO (PACO) ENRIQUEZ:

After a delay due to Covid-19 restrictions we are making progress on our Global Grant in Pavit and Xenimaquin. As of November 2020 Pavit is around 70% completed and Xenimaquin 75%. Both will be finished soon. Villagers participate in all aspects of the work.

PAVIT

- Installed 4,000 meters of PVC pipe as part of the distribution network starting at the water springs.
- Dug trenches and changed out old pipes for the distribution network.
- Constructed and installed above-ground pipeline, using metal pipes.
- Met constantly with community authorities for supervision and agreements about the project progress.
- Trained village authorities and families, with only 10 participants in each session because of the pandemic conditions.

Topics: Potable water, Gastrointestinal Diseases, Personal Hygiene, How to Take Care of the Water.

Gray water filters are not part of this Global

Grant, but they are part of the ABPD program and are key for the Ministry of Environment to approve the environmental impact study for the water project.

Because there is no drainage system in the village, we have to provide some infrastructure to make sure the groundwater is not contaminated by gray water (waste water from washing clothes and dishes). These filters are almost completed in Pavit.

XENIMAQUIN

- Constructed 3 valves boxes.
- Installed and/or replaced 7000 meters of pipe for the distribution line.
- Constructed 2 water tanks, 20,000 liters capacity each (5283 gallons each). The second one is still under construction.
- Met constantly with authorities to agree on the progress of the project.
- Trained village authorities and families, with only 10 participants in each session because of the pandemic conditions.

Topics: Potable water, Gastrointestinal Diseases, Personal Hygiene, How to Take Care of the Water.

Like in Pavit, gray water filters are key part of the water project, even if not included in the Global Grant.

Article on the background of this grant and project is on the next page.

Background on Grant and Partner APBD

BY JOHN WALKER

Rotary Club of Aiken Sunrise

Chronic childhood malnutrition is a problem all over Guatemala. Almost 50% of children aged 5 and under are malnourished. In the highland villages of Tecpan, however, the number is as high as 95%.

In 2019, Rotary District 7750 joined with District 6250 and the Madison (WI) South Rotary Club, which wrote the grant application, on a Global Grant for a Water and Sanitation in two villages in the highlands of Tecpan, Guatemala.

We partnered with APBD (Association Behrhorst Partners for Development) in Guatemala. The host club in Guatemala was the Antigua Rotary Club in Antigua, Guatemala. Other clubs participating in the grant included the Vero Beach Oceanside and Indialantic clubs in Florida and the Centerville-Farmington club in Maine.

Also in 2019, Deb Walters from District 7790 (Maine and Quebec) wrote a Global Grant for Maternal and Child Health for one of the same villages plus one other that had been assessed to need this type of help. The “ask” comes from the village leaders themselves then a detailed assessment is done by APBD.

Training that empowers:

- Women to actively participate in community and household decision making
- Youth to become change agents and emerging leaders in their community, and
- Men to engage with long-term improvements to the health and well-being of the community

ABPD’s track record has been amazing and the sustainability of projects in Guatemalan villages speaks to their success.

ABPD is a local indigenous group

ABPD, a largely indigenous organization, has been in existence for over 25 years. An essential part of the approach is for the communities and their local development committees (known as COCODES) to form strategic alliances with a range of people including municipalities, national governmental entities and other NGOs working in the area.

ABPD has one major objective: to reduce childhood malnutrition in Mayan communities. The cornerstone of their work is empowerment. As stated in one of their documents, “We build the leadership and problem-solving skills of women, men and youth to address both the dietary and environmental root causes of childhood malnutrition.”

They focus on good nutrition during the first 1000 days of life that includes pregnancy and the first 2 years of a child’s life. APBD works with a village for 3 years and their many interventions include:

- Assisting communities to build potable water, grey water systems
- Helping families build vented latrines
- Aiding families to build efficient cookstoves that are smoke free
- Improving agriculture both in their corn and bean fields and through creating family gardens
- Providing goats to increase protein in the diet of mothers and young children
- Training village women as “promoters” who train the village in:
 - Hygiene and sanitation
 - Nutrition
 - Proper breast-feeding and weaning, and
 - Family planning

↑ Seneca Fire Chief Richie Caudill, left, reminded members of the Golden Corner Rotary Club to check their fireplaces before using them this winter, including those with gas logs, do not connect several strands of Christmas lights, replace smoke detectors after ten years and smoke detector batteries at least twice a year. Caudill also reported that the Seneca Fire Department recently helped Santa Claus deliver toys and gifts to more than 100 children. With is Golden Corner Rotarian Pam Dowd.

← Golden Corner Rotarian Vic Holley updated the club on the Rotary Foundation which supports such projects as the worldwide eradication of polio and clean water wells around the globe. Rotary Foundation also provides matching grants for such efforts as the local Golden Corner Rotary Club which provides scholarships for those completing the GED program through the School District of Oconee County's Adult Education.

↑ Jimmy Watt, left, and Helen Westmoreland with the Oconee County Sheriff's Office, recently updated the Golden Corner Rotary Club on the Sheriff's leadership programs and foundation. The Oconee County Sheriff helps reimburse deputies for continuing education tuition and the foundation recently helped the department purchase a trained explosives dog. The dog was named Thor by Cam Hendrix, a student at Westminster Elementary School.

↑ Bob Walker, commandant for the Marine Corps League's Lewis G. Watkins Detachment, spoke about the annual Toys for Tots drive in Oconee County. The program also partners with 15 neighboring community organizations in Pickens and Anderson counties and raised more than $20,000 last year. Ninety-seven percent of all funds raised was spent on toys and the remaining three percent was spent on such supplies as distribution bags and promotional materials. Walker stressed that this year has seen a dramatic drop in contributions of toys and funds to purchase toys.

Lake Wylie supports Toys for Tots

Lake Wylie Rotarians supported the Toys for Tots Drive in December. Toys for Tots began in 1947 and continues to bring smiles to children today. This wonderful organization delivers millions of toys to children in need at Christmas. The donations ensure that all children will have a gift to open on Christmas.

President Anne Violanti and Past President David Redding hold a few of the toys donated by the generous Rotarians in Lake Wylie.

Life is good and we made it to 2021.

Now is the time to strengthen and sharpen your Rotary imprint and DNA upon the world. Never fall asleep at the Rotary wheel; keep it in motion and sharpened.

Join an Action Group. During this time, I will suggest the following:

RAG FOR DIABETES—We have not all adhered to our diets. We need to maintain our fighting weight and hold onto it. Also it is important that we help those we live with and who are dear to us to eat healthy and maintain their desirable weight. It is all in the interest of living longer; now that's a nifty goal.

RAG FOR HEARING—Has everyone in your Club been tested? I have been at a Club that had a member that would verbally complain about the speaker talking softly. Nobody thought about sending him for a hearing test. Healthy Rotarians make life easier for others.

THE ROTARY FELLOWSHIP FOR MOTORCYCLING—Has developed a group trip for 2021. That will help us all get fresh air and exercise. It will be at the Blue Ridge Parkway and Lake Junaluska. I hear that it has spectacular views and rides for Rotarians to enjoy.

Check out Fellowships and RAGs. Rotary will become more fun in 2021. Consider joining one or two; you will never regret it.

Seneca club provides snacks for Covid testing site

The Seneca Rotary Club provided lunch/snacks for the testers, registration workers, and the National Guard during a Free Covid-19 Testing Event held in Seneca on November 14. This was a great way to show Rotary as "People in Action" by supporting a worthy community outreach during these challenging and difficult times. Pictured are club members, Andy Inabinet, Eric Cope, and Club President Earnestine Williams.

Build your club's membership pipeline

DG BETH PADGETT

Growing membership in a Rotary Club requires a constant pipeline of prospective new members. If a club builds that pipeline, the club will attract new members. It really is that simple.

Most people don't join Rotary because they have never been asked to do so. Let's start asking them!

Here are just a few of the proven ways to build your club's membership pipeline.

1. Have your club set aside time to complete the "Who Do You Know?" exercise. This is the greatest way to create that pipeline. Club Presidents and Membership Chairs have a handout that can be used at a Club Assembly or regular meeting. "Who do You Know?" Use this practical and reliable tool. Allow time for people to fill it out (making it clear the meeting isn't over until everyone has some names written down). Then ask Rotarians to invite the people on their list to a Rotary Information Hour or special club meeting.

2. Conduct a Classification/Profession Gap Analysis. Create a list of local businesses and professions from the Chamber of Commerce and/or sources. Identify businesses and professions that ought to have someone in Rotary. Present the list at a Club Assembly and ask which members know someone at each business and who will invite them to an upcoming Rotary Information Hour.

3. Have a regularly scheduled "Rotary Information Hour" once a quarter or once a month. Make this a standing event. Put it on the club's calendar and remind members to bring prospective members to this event.

4. Review a list of people who have dropped out of your Rotary Club in the past few years. Some of them may find that they now have time for Rotary and they miss seeing their former club members. Invite them back. Let them know they have been missed.

5. Use the power of being a Club President. If you are Club President, personally ask each member to try to attract a new member to your club. Have this one-on-one conversation. Don't make an announcement at a club meeting. Take the anonymity out of the ask. Personally ask each member, "Can I count on you to try to recruit a new member -- not only for the club but also for me?"

6. Take advantage of new opportunities for bringing people into Rotary. Over the past few years, Rotary International has made it increasingly easy to attract new members. Create a Corporate or Family Membership option for your club. Look at creating a "YP-35" membership category for younger members similar to the "Rule of 85" that makes it easier for older Rotarians to remain in the club. Consider creating a Satellite Club. Get creative. Put actions in place that are relevant for your club.

District 7750 Environment and Sustainability Committee – Call for Interest

PDG ROB HANLEY

Rotary Club of Greenville City Center

Do you support actions that improve our environment? Would you like to support District 7750's Rotarians and Rotary clubs weave improving the environment into local and global projects? Then consider serving on the District 7750 Environment and Sustainability Committee.

Rotary has embraced supporting the environment since 1990-91, when RI President Paulo V.C. Costa created the Preserve Planet Earth subcommittee, which looked at ways clubs and members could conduct environmental initiatives.

Over the years improving the environment has been woven into several Rotary Foundations areas of focus, such as water and sanitation and saving mothers and children.

Now, the RI Foundation Trustees have added supporting the environment as the seventh area of focus.

The purposes of the District 7750 Environment and Sustainability Committee are to promote Rotary International's initiatives regarding the environment and sustainability; encourage District 7750 Rotary Clubs to consider the environment and sustainability when developing projects; incorporate environment and sustainability into Rotary Foundation District Designated Funds and Global Grants; provide District 7750 Rotary clubs with resources and speakers on how to initiate projects with an environment and sustainability focus; and incorporate environment and sustainability into annual club planning and programming.

If you would like more information or participate, please e-mail PDG Rob at dg2019@rotary7750.org.

Rotary Leadership Institute expects to have classes online and/or face-to-face soon

BY RENEE STUBBS

RLI District 7750 chair and DGND

rcstubbs@att.net

Many of you have missed continuing your Rotary education with RLI.

Since last spring we have had a very dedicated team constructing an interactive online version of the RLI sessions and securing a software program to host the institute.

The online sessions will offer a great opportunity to meet fellow Rotarians from across the southeast. We are planning to begin to host face-to-face RLI in the early spring and summer.

In the meantime, check the District calendar in DACdb for dates. Our first sessions should be coming in the calendar towards the middle of January. We hope to see you soon.
