North Spartanburg club president Danny Crout puckered up to kiss a goat when the club met its fundraising goal.

Kissing a goat for an “Act of Kindness”

BY JENNIFER CANDLER

Rotary Club of North Spartanburg

Puckering up was exactly what Danny Crout, President of the Rotary Club of North Spartanburg, did when his Club met an important fundraising goal. As part of the largest civic organization in the world, the Rotary Club of North Spartanburg relies on money generated from helping the City of Spartanburg with events such as Spring Fling, the International Festival, and Dickens of a Christmas.

Yet, with COVID-19 and an ongoing pandemic, all of these events were cancelled. Facing a “hard candy Christmas,” so to speak, the North Spartanburg Club had to think outside the box to earn the much-needed money it uses to support numerous well-known causes. Rotary is known for “doing good in the world,” and the Club wanted to ensure that this mission continued even during such uncertain times.

This is when Club President Crout stepped in with a unique idea he borrowed from his Samuel Hook, Director of the SC School for the Deaf and Blind, with North Spartanburg Rotary President, Danny Crout.

HALTER Executive Director, Nancy Paschall, receives a donation to help fund the program's therapeutic horseback riding services for children with special needs.

Matt Summey, Miracle Hill Rescue Mission Director, receives a donation to help support their ongoing outreach and service to the local homeless population.

church, Joy Lutheran. After the congregation completed “100 acts of kindness” during the pandemic, Joy Lutheran’s pastor kissed a goat in celebration.

In a similar manner, Crout explained, the Club would turn in their acts of kindness done during the pandemic but would donate $10 for each act. The “Acts of Kindness” goal was met easily, so President Crout was off to find a goat to kiss.

There were a few setbacks, however. The cute little goat his pastor kissed unfortunately passed over the Rainbow Bridge, and the rest of the herd came down with pink eye. But, undeterred, Crout found a healthy and similarly adorable goat to uphold his end of the deal.

In addition to promoting this “Acts of Kindness” fundraiser, the Rotary Club of North Spartanburg also held an internal poinsettia sale for members to purchase beautiful arrangements for friends and loved ones to enjoy during the Holidays.

The money generated from the sale of poinsettias, the “Act of Kindness” fundraiser, and support from funds raised during easier times, enabled the Club to help several Spartanburg County organizations.

A donation went to the South Carolina School for the Deaf and Blind to assist them with buying books for their Braille library that had become depleted when the children took books home at the beginning of March. Other contributions went to Mobile Meals, Miracle Hill Rescue Ministry, Spartanburg Soup Kitchen, the Carpenter’s Table, and the Middle Tyger Food Pantries.

“Even though this past year has been difficult for our Rotary Club, we are dedicated to living the mission of our Rotary International organization and continue to ‘do good in the world,’” said President Crout. “We will keep moving forward into 2021 with a focus on creativity in fundraising.”

Lorraine receives Rotary Foundation's highest honor

BY DG BETH PADGETT

District Rotary Foundation Chair Lorraine Angelino has been recognized for her exemplary service to The Rotary Foundation by receiving the Distinguished Service Award.

This is The Rotary Foundation's highest service recognition, and no more than 50 such awards are presented every year. This internationally competitive award is given to Rotarians who have rendered exceptional service to The Rotary Foundation beyond the District level for an extended period of time.

Rotarians become eligible for the award four years after receiving the Citation for Meritorious Service.

Lorraine has been a member of the Emerald City Rotary Club since 2002. She will become the Zone 33 Regional Rotary Foundation Coordinator on July 1. She has served as Zone 33 Assistant Regional Rotary Foundation Coordinator from 2015-202 and as District Rotary Foundation Chair for six years.

Lorraine was District Governor in 2013-14, and she is the Chair of the Rotary Leadership Institute.

For the past six years, Lorraine has been instrumental in the District Governor Beth Padgett presented District Rotary Foundation Chair Lorraine Angelino with The Rotary Foundation's Distinguished Service Award at a recent meeting of the Emerald City Rotary Club.

District Foundation events.

In 2018, she helped lead District 7750's first Million Dollar Challenge that culminated in a Million Dollar Reception.

She secured Foundation speakers over the past several years for the District's Foundation Event, and she has planned the District's Foundation training.

Lorraine gives generously of her time to promote The Rotary Foundation and encourage giving. She frequently speaks to Rotary Clubs in our District and elsewhere in Zone 33.

A proud Rotarian, Lorraine participates in Rotary events around the world. Lorraine has traveled five times to Honduras to establish Global Grants, participate in several medical missions, visit water projects, and attend Rotary meetings to discuss future projects. She has attended eight Rotary International conventions.

Financial contributions to the Foundation, however notable, are not relevant to this award. It is noteworthy that Lorraine gives as generously of her financial resources as she does of her time and talent. She is a Major Donor, Paul Harris Fellow, Benefactor, Bequest Society member, and a Paul Harris Society Charter member.

Lorraine is a valuable member of our District Leadership Team.

No more than 50 such awards are presented every year.

The magic of a cause-based Rotary club

Meet John, a 44-year-old environmental scientist. His passion is cleaning up rivers, a love born of almost a decade as a whitewater raft guide.

Meet Candace, a 37-year-old high school teacher who donates time to a watershed group, helping to monitor pollutants in local streams.

John and Candace aren't Rotarians, but they're already living our Service Above Self motto.

Now say hello to Laura, a 56-year-old Rotarian who has a passion for kayaking and the clean streams and rivers that make it enjoyable.

So, what if Laura approaches John and Candace and says something like, "Did you know you can now start a Rotary Club focused exclusively on the health of our streams and rivers?"

She could tell them, "Our Rotary District has over 2,000 well-placed members that you can network and collaborate with on these issues."

Laura could point out, "Rotary clubs are good at organizing and fundraising, plus we have grants that environmental causes would qualify for."

Do you see the huge difference from how we typically approach people?

Laura isn't asking John and Candace to join her Rotary club and add more work and obligations to their already busy schedules. She's telling them that a cause-based Rotary club can help them do the work they're already doing.

In other words, Rotary can bring benefits to the table that can help them organize and accomplish their goals more productively.

Laura could also tell them about the leadership training they'll get, about how they can educate youth through Interact and other programs. She might tell them about other Rotary environmental projects and the possibility of international service.

This is the magic of a Cause-based Rotary Club.

Cause-based clubs are one of several models being promoted by the Innovative Clubs Advocate (ICA) committees in each of the seventeen Districts in Zone 33. But any Rotarian in any club can be the "spark" that gets a Cause-based club started.

Simply put, Cause-based clubs are about harnessing the passions people already have and showing them the benefits of establishing a Rotary Club specifically around that cause.

While the concept is still new, there's exciting progress. Zone 33 already has social justice clubs, peace clubs, veteran's clubs, golf clubs, scouting clubs, global clubs and more.

A Cause-based club can charter on its own with a minimum of twenty members, or it can start as a Satellite club under an existing club with just eight members.

For more information on Cause-based Rotary Clubs, contact Terry Weaver at DG2015@Rotary7750.org.

Recognitions at Inman

District Governor Beth Padgett and Past District Governor Carol Burdette had a great time on March 23 with The Rotary Club of Inman.

DG Beth presented the club with two Rotary Foundation banners for their great work in 2019-20, and PDG Carol (who also is District Membership Chair) spoke to the club about membership.

Celebrate Earth Day – April 22

BY PDG ROB HANLEY

Chair District 7750 Environment and Sustainability Committee

On December 8, 1968 NASA Astronaut Bill Anders took a “Earthshot,” a photograph that catalyzed the environmental movement. Two years later, and after the 1969 Santa Barbara, California oil spill made the news, Senator Gaylord Nelson hired Dennis Hayes to coordinate a national “environmental teach-in” that they would come to call name Earth Day. On that first Earth Day, held on April 22, 1970, over 20 million people in the United States participated in what was up to that time the largest, single day demonstration held in the nation. Since then, Earth Day has grown to be celebrated by hundreds of millions in over 190 nations and in many different ways.

WHAT WILL YOU AND YOUR ROTARY CLUB DO TO CELEBRATE EARTH DAY?

Here are some actions YOU can take:

1. Use reusable grocery bags. One of the largest single sources of litter in South Carolina is single use bags. When tossed away as litter, they get swept into streams and rivers where they get caught on vegetation or mired in sediment. You can see them high in trees where they hang like flags. The plastics in many of these bags is not biodegradable. It does, however eventually physically breakdown into smaller particles that can damage aquatic life and get into our drinking water supplies.
2. Recycle paper, plastic, and metal. It takes much less energy to recover and reuse materials. The life cycle cost to recycle plastic is over fifty percent less than the cost to obtain the raw materials (oil) and manufacture new plastic.

If you want more ideas, contact me at dg2019@rotary.org or go to www.earthday.org Together, we all can make better the only place we know of that supports our lifeforms.

Here are some actions your Rotary CLUB can take:

1. Do a “river sweep.” Clean trash out of a local waterway. You would be amazed what gets carried into our streams and rivers. In the Upstate, most of our drinking water comes from surface water. In many communities you can find a local organization with which you can partner. It’s a great way to give back to our Earth and perhaps make new friends and find new Rotarians.
2. Adopt a low-income neighborhood. Your club could work with a low-income neighborhood to improve energy efficiency and help with food security. Creating and working with the residents to tend a community garden will help them with food security and improved nutrition. You can hold workdays to replace old windows with new, to add weather-stripping, or to find other ways to reduce heating and air conditioning costs and benefit the environment.

Let your community know when you do these kinds of projects. This is one way to attract new members! They see what you’re doing and want to be a part of it.

Greenville Rotarians read to students on Read Across America Day

Members of the Rotary Club of Greenville read virtually to the Alexander Elementary students on Read Across America Day:

Participating were Lauren Payne, Pam Weaver, Jane Dyer, Mike Snively, Lorraine Holeman, Devin Farrell, Judith Prince, Amy Randall, Diana Espinoza, Ramona Farrell, Scott Powell, Kathy McAfee and Jimmy Kimbell.

Police officers Rachel Hall and Alia Paramore also participated.

Mike Snively and Lisa Minnick organized the event and Teresa Miller suggested law enforcement officers read to the students.

Devin Farrell reading to Mr. Barnes Third Grade class and Amy Randall reading to Ms. Raybon's Second Grade class at Alexander Elementary School in Greenville. The feedback was outstanding by both teachers and students. Teachers said the students loved havign the books read to them. "I heard so many wonderful things from the students and the teachers about the virtual readings!! It was the highlight of everyone's day!" said Megan Shroy.

Greenwood club provides shoes and socks to school

BY KENDALL GUNTER
ROTARY CLUB OF GREENWOOD
PUBLIC IMAGE CHAIR

The Rotary Club of Greenwood gifted new shoes and socks to a few hundred students of Woodfields Elementary School as a part of their Happy Feet service project.

Each year, Rotarians from around the globe participate in projects that benefit individuals on a local level all the way to an international level. While members of the Rotary Club of Greenwood have their hands in many different areas of the service arena, recently they worked with Greenwood School District 50 officials and Houser Shoes to provide 225 pairs of new tennis shoes and 576 pairs of socks to some of the students at Woodfields Elementary School.

"This has been a challenging year for children due to the pandemic, and we feel blessed to be able to meet a need and be a bright spot for the kids," says Club President Pamela Vaughn.

The club worked diligently over the course of months to come up with a new service project that would benefit a section of the local population, assisting them with basic needs and giving them tools to be successful in school.

Greenwood School District 50's Director of Communication and Public Information Officer Johnathan Graves said, "We are very appreciative of Greenwood Rotary Club including our students at Woodfields Elementary in the Happy Feet project. This tremendous donation will allow our children to continue having a successful school year socially, emotionally, and academically. On behalf of the students and teachers at Woodfields, we would like to thank Greenwood Rotary and Houser Shoes for making this donation possible."

As the Rotarian vision states, "together, we see a world where people unite and take action to create lasting change — across the globe, in our communities, and in ourselves." For over 100 years, the Rotary Club of Greenwood has created lasting change by creating and executing various service projects, raising and granting out funds to local nonprofit organizations and activities throughout the year.

Rotarians can help fight Covid-19

BY DG BETH PADGETT

Rotarians are known internationally for their work in eradicating polio. For more than three decades, we have devoted our time and financial resources to ridding the world of a disease that once brought fear into the hearts of parents everywhere.

Just consider what has been accomplished since Rotary and its partners started the Global Polio Eradication Initiative in 1988. At that time, there were 350,000 cases of polio in 125 countries every year. Today, we have almost eradicated the wild poliovirus that now exists in only two countries, Afghanistan and Pakistan.

Think about this: Without the work of Rotary and its partners, almost 19 million people would have polio today who otherwise have been spared this crippling disease. More than 1.5 million people are alive who would otherwise have died.

Rotarians should take pride in their involvement in the effort to save generations of children from polio. And we also should recognize we can play a similar role in preventing the spread of Covid-19. We can help our society achieve protection from this disease that has claimed many of our friends and family members, and has damaged many businesses and disrupted our lives.

Since July, I have asked Rotarians in our District 7750 to do three things:

1. Model Good Behavior – Wear a mask. Practice Social Distancing. Wash your hands. Ask others to do the same.

2. Educate our Friends and Neighbors about Covid-19 and ways to prevent the spread. So much misinformation exists in our world, and Rotarians – people who live the Four-Way Test – need to fight misleading information.

3. Promote the Vaccination Program. Months ago, a vaccine that prevented Covid-19 (or at the very least reduced the danger from it and helped control its spread) seemed a dream. That vaccine now is very real, and mass vaccination programs are taking place all over our country. Rotarians are stepping up to help ensure people are vaccinated, and they are serving as advocates for these programs and working as volunteers at vaccination sites.

Let's help return our lives to normal, and in the process save lives, by continuing to model good behavior, educate our friends and neighbors, and promote the vaccination program.

And yes, Rotary on the international level is deeply committed to working with the Covid-19 vaccination program.

This is a letter that Holger Knaack, President of Rotary International, and K.R. Ravindran, Chair of The Rotary Foundation, sent in late March to District Governors and Club Presidents throughout the world:

Letter from Rotary leaders on Covid

In these difficult days, we are so heartened to receive such uplifting reports on the unrelenting efforts of our Rotary members who have responded in their communities against the COVID-19 pandemic.

Today, the single question we hear time and again is, “Are we getting involved with COVID vaccination?”

The answer is yes.

This does not mean we will deviate from our commitment to eradicating polio, which remains our highest priority and continues to be our only corporate program. Polio vaccinations must continue unabated, as must our effort to raise $50 million per year for this effort.

But now, COVID-19 vaccines are becoming available around the world, and our members have an important role to play.

We ask you to encourage (Rotarians) club to:

1. Use Rotary’s knowledge of vaccine safety and efficacy based on our polio eradication experience to support vaccination efforts in your communities. This will need to be tailored to local contexts to address unique cultural and regional needs.

2. As vaccine distribution begins in your country, partner with local organizations or health authorities to offer your club’s support with vaccination efforts as required.

3. Help combat the powerful, growing force of vaccine resistance and misinformation. Advocacy in our communities is critical — we need to spread the message about the power of vaccines to protect lives.

4. Stop the spread of COVID-19 by continuing to engage in projects supporting mask-wearing, distancing, proper hygiene practices, and donations of personal protective equipment — before and after vaccination.

Please take a moment to view this video message, and share with your networks. As your club gets involved with local vaccination or COVID-19 prevention efforts, please add your project on Rotary Showcase (please log in to My Rotary first, and navigate to Rotary Showcase).

We look forward to learning how your club is working to support vaccination efforts in order to bring the COVID-19 pandemic to an end.

Does your Rotary Club need a speaker?

From time to time, every Rotary Club needs a speaker. Here are some ideas:

1 Anna Rushton, the Outreach Coordinator for the Securities Division of the South Carolina Attorney General's Office, is available as a guest speaker for either a virtual or in-person visit. She will speak on investment fraud and the steps South Carolinians can take to protect themselves. She also will discuss recent investment fraud cases that have affected South Carolina investors and how isolation due to COVID has affected some investors more than others. Anna can be reached at Office of the South Carolina Attorney General, 1000 Assembly Street, Columbia, SC 29201, or (803) 734-0408. Her email is ARushton@scag.gov.

2 Former 4th District Congressman Bob Inglis is available to speak about climate change. As you know, the Rotary Foundation is adding a 7th Area of Focus: Protecting the Environment. When Bob left Congress, he started the Energy and Enterprise Initiative at George Mason University. His work earned him the 2015 John F. Kennedy Profiles in Courage Award. During this time when most clubs are doing programs virtually, Bob can be available anywhere and at almost any time. You can contact him at bob@republicen.org or schedule through the organization's communication director, Price Atkinson, at 855.271.7770.

3 Don't forget "topic speakers" from among our own Rotarians. District Membership Chair Carol Burdette is eager to speak to clubs about membership; District Governor Nominee Designate Renee Stubbs will speak about the Rotary Leadership Institute; District Rotary Foundation Chair Lorraine Angelino can coordinate a speaker on The Rotary Foundation; and District Governor Beth Padgett can talk about Rotary and its response to Polio and Covid-19.

Another Action group has been started

BY PDG BARBARA SHAYEB-HELOU

7750 Fellowships and RAGS Chair

We have another Rotary Action Group: The RAG for Menstrual Health, Hygiene and Refugees. That's a mouthful. And I think books will be written on all the aspects of it.

But—as someone who has worked with Refugees—I understand how important the women are in the family unit. Many young refugees grow up in a U.N. Camp; that is where their education takes place, their health care and family life. That is their world. People who are forced into a camp usually try to make that a temporary stop along the road of Life. Other times, countries fight invaders, demographics change and the world turns "inside out" for many families.

They no longer have homes to return to. The geographic spot they grew up in is now claimed by another Sovereign Power. Now that would confuse anyone.

That takes me back to 1905, when Paul Harris got Rotary started. When you read his writings, you will see that the attainment of Peace was always something he looked forward to and Cross Cultural interaction. That's how the Rotary Scholar Program and the Rotary Exchange Group got started.

Rotary is truly International. When decisions are made many details have to be considered: never insult another culture, a religion or another ethnicity. We are all Rotarians and we are the same.

EMERALD CITY: DEAL OR NO DEAL!

Club wants to raise money for projects AND give back to The Rotary Foundation

BY PDG LORRAINE ANGELINO

Rotary Club of Emerald City

Emerald City Rotary Club believes in giving back to the Greenwood community, but also believes in giving back to The Rotary Foundation.

For the past five years, Emerald City has had a fundraiser in October during Polio week also give away gift certificates and other small gifts at the meeting. In addition, we contribute any of our Happy Dollars and Wheel Spins during October and November to Polio. This year we had contributions around $3,800 for Polio.

Our second fundraiser for The Rotary Foundation, Deal or No Deal, is in March and is so much fun. All contributions and winnings go to Annual Fund – SHARE. Whether members play or they just come to watch and fellowship everyone in the club looks forward to the meeting. This year's meeting was attended by our District Governor Beth Padgett. This year also was a little different since we had some members on Zoom and some in person. We started the Paul Harris Fellows, and new Benefactors. Then it was time to play the game.

Two weeks prior to the meeting members are sent an email with a Deal or No Deal document attached. They then decide if they want to donate $15, $30, or $100 or multiple $100s or they just want to watch this year. If they are not a Benefactor, they also have the option of becoming a Benefactor during the meeting. The club contributes $3,000, which becomes the bank. If someone contributes $15 then they get $15 from the bank and 100 points. If someone contributes $30 then they get $30 from the bank, 100 points, and a gift off the gift table. If someone becomes a Benefactor, then they get 100 points. If someone gives $100 or multiple $100s then they get $50 from the bank, 100 points, gift from gift table, and they go to the final round. All those going to the final round get a chance to win $1,000 from the bank. Remember all money won goes to The Rotary Foundation in the winners' name plus the contribution they made.

Members had been giving me money for two weeks and as members came in to the meeting, they dropped off their money as well. I took up the last of the money and put tickets in a bucket from anyone contributing $100 or more. The fun began with having those on Zoon picking their gifts. Then anyone in person contributing $100 or more got to line up and pick a gift off the gift table. Once the group had contributed $100 then the group that contributed $30 came and got their gifts.

This year's Deal or No Deal brought in $6,170 for AF-Share and one new Benefactor to help fund its 2020-21 District Grants: Batting cages at Rotary Field at YMCA, Rotaract Project – Refrigerator and Freezer for Lander Food Pantry, and Dolly Parton Imagination Library. We are still reviewing projects for the 2021-2022 Rotary Year.

The table was filled with gift cards from Walmart and Lowes, car wash tickets, Rotary items – towel, apron, flashlight, coffee cups, Yeti cup and more, Clemson items – towel, ornaments, and more, Lander Alumni items – frisbees, shirts, towel, and more, Self Regional Healthcare Foundation items – Yeti cups, canvas bags, towel, Tervis tumblers and more, Blood Connection items – Bag, cooler bag, towel, and more, and just a bunch of items donated by members or things I had gathered over time.

Once gifts were picked out, it was time for the final round and giving away of $1,000, which was won by Past President Jerry Rentz.

BY JOHN MCROBERTS, MEMBER

Rotary Club of Seneca

Written for St. Patricks Day 2021

May this club have unspeakable luck
As we bring in new members and collect the Happy buck
The truth we will tell
Ring the Rotary bell
And relieve those around us who are stuck

With new vaccines, we are turning the tide
May fellow members always be by your side
May you never get burned
And may fairness be to all concerned
May you find peace in this glorious ride

May we raise funds through cards on the lake
As we know that scholarships are at stake
May we build friendships and goodwill
May we remember now that still
The Rotary 4 Way test we must take

As we journey through 2021
Hopefully a new quest "in person" has begun
So much we have learned
To be beneficial to all concerned
Even with all of the challenges, with unity we have won

May this club provide you the perfect fit
May the path at you feet always be lit
May you never go in need
To the children may you read
And to the Rotary Club, may you offer your wit.
