A VIBRANT CLUB is exciting and meaningful

BY DG DAVID BRENNER

I am writing this article the day after a very successful Vibrant Club Forum. Most of the clubs in our district got together at the Vibrant Club Forum to exchange ideas about how to become a vibrant club. In recent years this day has been known as the Membership Summit. But on Aug. 23, the day was significantly different. It was more than just a name change. It's was about exchanging ideas and having fun doing it.

Yes, it was still about Growing Rotary. But it was also an acknowledgement that the world is changing and people are looking for excitement and fun as well as service in the clubs they join. Folks are looking for a club that provides something more than just the opportunity to serve their community. After all there are plenty of ways to serve, other than joining a Rotary Club. So, our clubs have to give people something more.

But let's start by acknowledging the people do not join Rotary, they join a Rotary Club. Likewise, they do not leave Rotary, they leave a Rotary Club.

To attract new members, and retain our current members, our clubs must be vibrant. What does that look like? It is one that meets today's challenges, it is dynamic, impactful, visible, and yes, it is definitely fun!

When we have clubs that are exciting and engaging, our visibility grows and our members are proud to tell everybody they know about their Rotary Club.

When we have clubs that are full of energy and innovation, our impact deepens.

When we offer meaningful experiences and authentic connections our members stay. Not only do they stay but they are proud to be members of our clubs and want to invite others to join them. Maybe they even wear their Rotary pin and clothes to places other than Rotary meetings where there are no other Rotarians. Just maybe they might ask you what is Rotary and there you go; the conversation begins!

When our clubs are exciting, flexible, filled with opportunities and of course fun, our influence expands.

How? Next page!

Above: DGE Eric Krishbaum looks a bit serious leading this session. But at right: The Rotarians in the back aren't so sure about district leaders PDG Rysheeka and DGE Eric.

How do we get a Vibrant Club?

So how do we get vibrant clubs. Let's acknowledge two things. First each club has its own personality and culture. and that's great, we can build on that. It would be a pretty boring world if we were all the same. Second, we don't have all the answers. That's why we need things like a Vibrant Club Forum where we can exchange ideas and discuss things that are working in our clubs.

Together we need to explore ways to get there. We must share ideas among ourselves. And hopefully you will pick up ideas from others that you'll want to take back to your club.

CHALLENGE NUMBER ONE

I have a challenge for you. The next time you go to your Rotary meeting, stop as you enter the room and look around. Do you see excitement? Do you see interesting conversation? Do you see laughter and fun? Or do you see people sitting at the same table where they have always sat, looking at their watch, and wondering when the meeting is going to start because they want to get back to whatever they were doing before they got here?

Look for excitement and fun, if it's not there create it. That is vibrancy.

I will give you one example. I attended the Rotary Club of Easley's meeting this past week. When I entered the room, there was a buzz. I saw excitement, I heard a lot of conversation and laughter. That's vibrancy. And incidentally Easley has increased in membership by 3-5 members in each of the past five years. The club's attrition rate is 11.7%, well below the district average of 16.9%. That's not a coincidence. That is vibrancy.

Do not accept that attrition is not solvable. Granted, life happens, but not at an attrition rate of 16.9%. We can do better. Plenty of clubs are doing better. We can have an attrition rate substantially better than 16.9% if we have vibrant clubs. So, create vibrancy in your club, make it exciting, make it impactful, make

This wasn't exactly hallway conversation where a lot of club issues can be solved, but it was a time at the forum to share ideas on how we can make our clubs more vibrant, more appealing to the people in our communities.

it dynamic, make it visible, and yes have fun. Then watch your attrition rate drop. Don't be satisfied to you have as many or more people going out the back door than there are coming in the front door.

CHALLENGE NUMBER TWO

I have a second challenge for you. Earlier I suggested that you look around the room as you entered your club meeting room. Now I suggest that when you leave your Rotary meeting you ask yourself a few questions

- Did I learn something I didn't know before?
- Did I help somebody?
- Did I learn about a project I am interested in?
- Did I spend time with some friends?
- Did I have fun?
- Am I looking forward to the next meeting?

Think about your answers and remember your fellow Rotarians will likely have the same answers as you. Let's all work together to make sure the answers to those questions are positive.

Our future is bright. I am excited about the possibilities we have to create lasting change across the globe, in our communities, and in ourselves. But we must react to the world today and make our clubs vibrant. Our vision must be to enable our clubs to be so exciting, so impactful, so visible and so much fun that people will want to become part of it. The Rotary meeting should be the best part of someone's week.

We can do it. Let's be bold. And let's build clubs that our communities and members deserve.—Dave

I say again: Rotary growth occurs in our Rotary Clubs. AND/BUT....

Our district team is here to help you and your club. Here are the Chairs of your District's Grow Rotary team.

First, our Grow Rotary Chair is Jamison Tinsley from the Rotary Club of Emerald City.

Our Club Support team, whose role is to help clubs find ways to attract members is Jim Nichols from the Rotary Club of Greer

Our Engagement Chair, miss vibrancy herself, is Kylie Herbert from the Rotary Club of Anderson

And this year to help guide clubs that are interested in starting new clubs, whether companion or legacy clubs, we have initiated a New Club Development team headed up by Roger Heitzeg from the Rotary Club of Greenville.

Everybody on this team has had success growing their Rotary clubs. They are willing and able to help your club. Take advantage of their experience.

Beth's September FOUNDATION CHALLENGES

We are going to have a great Rotary Foundation year in 2025-2026. To ensure that we do, I'm challenging all Club Presidents and Club Foundation Chairs — and all Rotarians — to do the following:

1 Make sure your club sends in its first quarter donations to The Rotary Foundation before mid-September. Also, make sure the funds are transmitted correctly so that individual Rotarians get the credit they deserve for their donations. Unless a special donation has been made to PolioPlus, all club donations most likely should go to Annual Fund – SHARE. Club Presidents and Club Foundation Chairs are responsible for making sure donations are sent on a timely basis to The Rotary Foundation.

2 If you did not make a Foundation donation in July, please make a gift (even a small one) before the end of September. It's such a powerful way of saying, "Please join me in donating to our Rotary Foundation!"

3 Ensure your club members know the importance of our Rotary Foundation. Make sure some topic related to The Rotary Foundation is on the agenda at least every month so your Rotarians know about the great work that we accomplish through our collective giving to The Rotary Foundation.

4 Tell your club members what you will do with your District Grant. In doing so, make sure they know that their Foundation donations are funding half of the project.

5 Look for an exciting announcement in a week or so about a special district event planned for World Polio Day October 24. Sorry, but we couldn't get the details completed by this newsletter's deadline.

Congratulations on District 7750 Historic Giving Achievement in 2024-2025!!

I want to say congratulations to all of the Rotarians, PolioPlus Coordinators, Presidents, and the Rotary Clubs and of our district for your financial support and educational efforts on behalf of our PolioPlus campaign in the 2024-2025.

This past Rotary year our district raised the second highest dollar amount we have ever achieved in one year...$170, 818. With the two-for-one dollar match provided by the Gates Foundation, our financial impact last year toward eradicating polio was $512,454. Thank you for your compassion and generosity! My special thank you goes to Beth Padgett, our District Rotary Foundation Chair, for her tireless efforts and her support of the PolioPlus Campaign.

continued joint commitment of up to $450 million was announced. Rotary will continue to raise $50 million per year, with every dollar to be matched with two additional dollars from the Gates Foundation.

Following the World-wide Polio Eradication Efforts Every Week

Of course, Rotary International will always remain the first organization to make it their mission to eradicate polio world-wide, and we will always be in the front lines of the fight to achieve our goal. However, several other valuable partners have joined Rotary in our noble effort in what is known as the Global Polio Eradication Initiative. This initiative is a public/private partnership made up of six partners. They are:

1. Rotary International (We have a goal to raise $50 million a year)
2. The Gates Foundation (Doubles Rotary's annual giving to $100 million)
3. US CDC (United States Centers for Disease Control)
4. UNICEF (United Nations Children's Fund)
5. WHO (World Health Organization)
6. GAVI (Vaccine Alliance)

FINAL Doug and Sally Kauffmann PolioPlus Challenge

Doug is once again offering a PolioPlus Match to District 7750 Rotarians in celebration of World Polio Day on October 24.

Between October 1, 2025 and December 31, 2025, Doug will match every gift of $100 or more given to PolioPlus by individual Rotarians up to $40,000 for the District. The Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation will match that money two more times. (For example, if a Rotarian contributes $100 for PolioPlus, Doug will contribute $100 to PolioPlus to increase the gift to $200. The Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation will contribute $400 to PolioPlus, making the entire gift $600).

Every Rotarian who gives $100 to $500 will also receive that many Rotary Foundation Recognition Points. Contributions can be made online at <https://my.rotary.org/en/polioplus-fund> (make sure you sign in as a Rotarian) or over the phone with the Rotary Support Center at 866-976-8279 will be processed immediately. PolioPlus giving does count toward a Paul Harris Fellow.

Note: Anyone with a PHF+8 or a Major Donor will not be awarded points but your financial contributions will count and be greatly appreciated! Recognition Points are of no value to these donors.

Doug is a member of the Rotary Club of Greenwood and is our District Polio Chair. Sally was a member of the Rotary Club of Greenwood. She died June 12, 2024. Doug is repeating their successful PolioPlus Challenge Match for the final time.

Self Portrait Al Walker with Slug the Penguin.

AL WALKER served in the Army in WWII in North Africa, Sicily, Italy and Germany. His artistic talents were eventually recognized, and he was transferred to the PWB, Combat Team (Psychological Warfare Branch). One of his assignments was to collect documents from Hitler's Eagle's Nest (Berchtesgaden, Germany) to see if any information could be used for propaganda by the PWB. He also worked with Irving Berlin who wrote the song "Fifth Army Where My Heart Is" during a USO tour in Naples.

Before the war Al drew comics for Fiction House and before that worked for Walt Disney Studios in California. His Slug the Penguin character appeared in the Norge Benson series.

From the Rotarian Magazine — WWII female pilots and my uncle Al Walker

BY JOHNNY WALKER

Rotary Club of Aiken Sunrise

The September 2025 issue of The Rotarian has a story about women pilots in WWII. Rotarian Lisa Taylor is pictured standing in front of a WWII T-6 Trainer aircraft in the National WASP WWII Museum in Sweetwater, Texas.

On the nose of the aircraft is the emblem for the 4th Fighter Group. The emblem was based on "Slug the Penguin," a Fiction House Comics character created by my uncle, Al Walker. Pilots of the historic P-40 Warhawk and P-47 Thunderbolt learned to fly on the T-6.

Lisa Taylor and National WASP WWII Museum, T-6 Aircraft.

66th Weapons Squadron Emblem

Slug was modified slightly for the 66th Pursuit Squadron, later renamed the 66th Weapons Squadron. The pipe was replaced with a cigar, the hat and gloves changed color to red, but the yellow sweater remained with the arm position and stance the same. Subsequent variations maintained the original look of Slug. The 66th Weapons Squadron flew P-40 Warhawk and P-47 Thunderbolt aircraft in WWII. They campaigned North Africa, Sicily, Italy, and France.

A combat P-47 Thunderbolt, nicknamed

"Toots," with pilot Joseph Angelone was photographed in Grosseto, Italy, 1944. The Slug the Penguin emblem can clearly be seen on the aircraft.

From a cafe in Naples in April 1944 Uncle Al wrote to my father, "I met an old friend ("Slug" the Penguin) on a jacket of an Air Corps Sergeant. I designed the insignia about two and a half years ago for an Air Corps group."

Al Walker commemorated his Army service and connection to the 66th Pursuit Squadron with a self portrait of Slug and friends from the Norge Benson comic books. The Norge Benson characters were created by Uncle Al in 1941, two years before he volunteered for the Army in January 1943.

Another of his WWII creations was the hapless aircraft mechanic, "Greasemonkey Griffin." Greasemonkey was constantly thwarting the Nazis, usually by clumsily interfering with their plans.

"Toots" and pilot Joseph Angelone, 57th Fighter Group - 66th Fighter Squadron, 1944.

The Rotarian article on women pilots in WWII and the strange coincidence to my uncle's work brought back fond memories of Uncle Al—WWII Army veteran and comic book artist. —Johnny

E-Club and Indian Land partner on school supply project in Lancaster County

BY CANDACE WYMAN

Rotary E-Club of the Carolinas

Did you know that 1+1+1 can be greater than 3??

That's what happens when you unite a Rotary Club (1), another Rotary Club (1) and another community service organization(1) to collaborate on a great project!

The E-Club of the Carolinas partnered with the Rotary Club of Indian Land and another local club to provide school supplies to students in need at 10 schools in Lancaster County.

Our club members also supported additional school supply drives in Anderson and at the Paul Dennis Center in McCormick.

As well as maximizing our impact in these communities, we have built relationships that will pay dividends as we plan more projects in the future.

Having the right school supplies empowers students to stay organized, focused, and confident in their learning. When students are equipped with what they need, they're less likely to feel stressed or fall behind.

E-Club member Candace Wyman, who lives in Indian Land, and Ellen Fenty-Morrison, of the Sun City Volunteers and Helping Hands, a community group that has been coordinating this drive for years.

BACK-TO-SCHOOL DRIVE SPARKS ROTARY SPIRIT AT GREER CLUB

When the Greer Community Ministries Back-to-School Drive was added to the Rotary Club of Greer's agenda at the last minute, the members didn't just step up—they surged forward! Members quickly gathered backpacks, supplies, and enthusiasm, creating a wave of energy that will help local students start the school year strong.

◀ Fifty-nine backpacks filled with supplies were dropped off to this staff member at Greer Community Ministries.

Whether it's welcoming new members (page 16), securing funding for local service (page 4), or recognizing steadfast commitment to Rotary ideals, August reminded us that the Rotary Club of Greer is growing stronger every day. Together, we're making a difference—locally and globally.

Engage the members you have/ invite others to join you

On Saturday, August 23rd, eighty District 7750 Rotarians, from some of our newest members to those more seasoned, gathered at The Kroc Center in Greenville, SC for The Vibrant Club Forum, an all-day workshop with one purpose in mind: strengthening clubs through shared ideas and renewed vision.

Fresh strategies, new inspiration, and proven best practices were shared throughout the sessions, all designed to help clubs create even greater impact in their communities. Unique ideas led to informative conversations which sparked connections across clubs, and attendees left energized to bring these insights home and put them into action. It is time to recruit potential Rotarians so we can share the gift of Rotary and increase our impact by growing Rotary.

A central theme of the day was the importance of continuing to engage current members while also inviting new members into Rotary. Strong clubs thrive when existing members feel connected, valued, and inspired to serve. That sense of belonging not only keeps members active but also generates fresh ideas, stronger friendships, and more meaningful service.

At the same time, welcoming new members is vital. Every new Rotarian brings distinctive talents, perspectives, and energy that strengthen our ability to serve and ensure our clubs remain vibrant and relevant for years to come.

"We've got a ton of leadership talent in Rotary thanks to our RLI alums. We want to make sure we're recognizing those skills and learning from each other. Their expertise is incredibly valuable as we tackle leadership challenges together."—Laurie Reuben, D7620

Mid-Atlantic region of RLI stepping up alumni program

BY LINDA SUSSMAN

*Mid-Atlantic Rotary Leadership Institute Reporter
Rotary Club of Capitol Hill - Washington DC*

The Rotary Leadership Institute (RLI) has launched its new Alumni Program, kicking things off with a celebration of about 70 alumni at the Mid-Atlantic RLI Summer Meeting in North Carolina.

RLI is a resource for both new and seasoned Rotarians, offering all kinds of leadership and learning opportunities. And now, once you complete your first RLI training course, you officially become an RLI Alum—with even more chances to connect and grow!

RLI courses are open to all Rotarians—whether you're in a leadership role, just curious about getting more involved, or want to understand our organization better.

More than 3,000 Alumni and growing!

There are already more than 3,000 RLI alumni in the Mid-Atlantic region. The training—and now the alumni events—are great ways to meet Rotarians from other clubs. At these meetings, participants often discover shared interests, like peace, health, or farming, and keep exchanging ideas long after the training ends. Alumni are encouraged to spread the word about RLI—attend future sessions, invite others, and talk about it at club meetings

What's Next for RLI Alumni?

The alumni celebration was part of a summer meeting that included RLI I–III training, graduate courses, and new faculty sessions. Looking ahead, RLI alumni will be featured at joint club and district events where you can stop by the RLI Table at the House of Friendship to learn more.

Alumni will also be celebrated at future Mid-Atlantic RLI meetings, including the Winter Meeting in January 2026.

AUGUST RLI GRADS TO ADD TO OUR ALUMNI LIST: Kristine Amin, Carolyn Batchler, Mark Bound, Daniel Dunn, Claudette Paulin Eames, Mark Eckert, Catherine Hamby, Jeremy Hart, Les Hicken, Spencer Smith, Bronwen Talley-Coffey, Terry Tate, Andie Dent Taylor, Matt Williamson, Melinda Bennett Gilreath.
